Gas War Strikes Central County; Prices Plummet

A war, one that pops up every six months or soo in Contra Costa County, broke out again with renewed vigor this week with gasoline prices plummeting throughout the county.

Low price recorded was a 24 cent per gallon tag at a "cut rate" station in Lafayette. Premium gasoline price low was listed at 29.9 cents per gallon at a Walnut Creek "cut rate station."

ON THE AVERAGE, however, regular gasoline was going yesterday at about 27 cents per gallon and premium gas at about 31 cents per gallon.

A Pleasant Hill service station operator claimed that the gas war started in San Francisco and some prices over there were already down to 23 cents per gallon for regular.

An Orinda operator stated that he had no choice but to get into the middle of the war and cut his prices since many of his customers were purchasing gas in Oakland for nearly 10 cents a gallon less than his "normal" price.

Several operators in the Walnut Creek area expressed the opinion that they would be forced to cut prices even lower and to lay off employees if the war continues any longer.

TWO LAFAYETTE operators stated that the end of the gas war was not in sight until the Oakland and San Francisco retailers increased their prices.

A major oil company representative informed The Sun: "We didn't start this war, it seems as though our operators had to just go along with the rest of the stations which are cutting price."

Owners Seek to Put Apartments on Site

Vigorous opposition to changing the zoning classification of the Pine Grove property from administrative offices to multiple residential was expressed yesterday by Richard Bartle, chairman of the Orinda Association's planning committee.

A request for the zoning change has been filed with the County Planning Commission by Associated Investment Company of Oakland, the owner of the 10½ acres Pine Grove site.

The commission has tentatively set a hearing on the proposal for 8 p.m. October 28.

IF THE PROPOSED zoning change is approved, said Edward Martin, president of the investment firm, it plans to build "luxury apartments" on the Pine Grove property.

"No plans have been developed yet," Martin said. "We can't afford to put a lot of money into plans unless the zoning is approved.

"Frankly, the financial outlook for an office building there just isn't too good."

'Associated Investment Company knew the property was zoned for administrative offices when it was purchased," Bartle said. "The firm also knew that the Orinda Association was opposed to rezoning to permit apartments there.

"OUR ATTITUDE hasn't changed. The County Planning Commission is now working on a master plan to include Orinda. Until such a plan is completed, we'll oppose this change from current zoning requirements."

Almost four years ago the property, then zoned residential-agricultural, was purchased from East Bay Municipal Utility District by Pacific Intermountain Express, which planned to build an office building on the site.

In the face of bitter opposition from the Orinda Association, PIE succeeded in getting the zoning classification for the Pine Grove tract changed to administration offices. The express company finally abandoned its plans to build.

THE PINE GROVE parcel was then sold to Miramonte Association. Douglas Manuel of Orinda took an option on the property, but abandoned plans to build apartments and withdrew an application for rezoning when the Orinda Association opposed it.

Last February, shortly after Manuel abandoned his plans for a $2 million apartment center because of the Orinda Association's opposition, the Pine Grove tract was purchased by the Associated Investment Company for a reported $375,000.

Fire Department to Add Emergency Rescue Truck

The addition of a rescue unit truck to Orinda Fire District equipment has been approved by district commissioners.

Delivery of the rescue unit, to cost about $3000, is expected in about 30 days, Gilbert Earle, commission chairman, announced yesterday.

Firemen will install special racks and equipment in the rescue unit and it will be ready for use in another 30 days, Earle said.

Purchase of the unit will be made by the County Purchasing Department.

"THIS EQUIPMENT is not an ambulance, but will be used for various types of rescue and life saving," Earle said. "The Fire Department will not provide ambulance transport service for sick, bedridden, or disabled persons who need to be moved from one location to another. These requirements must be met by a regular ambulance service."

Need for the rescue unit, Earle said, is indicated by the fact that calls to the Orinda Fire Department for emergency aid at present outnumber fire calls about five to one.

"This function of the department has grown continuously over the past years," Earle commented, "and due to the increasing population of the Orinda Fire District, the Board of Fire Commissioners feels that a specialized piece of equipment is justified for this purpose.

"UP TO NOW, these emergency calls have been answered by using a fire truck or the chief's car."

Earle pointed out that with three strategically-located fire stations, prompt service is available by dispatching equipment closest to the scene.

The rescue unit will be stationed at Station No. 1. Emergency calls would be answered by equipment with resuscitator and first aid materials from the nearest station; if the call originates from Station No. 2 or No. 3, the rescue unit will follow up, and the first unit answering the call will return to the station.

IN ADDITION to a resuscitator and first aid materials, the rescue unit will carry some surgical instruments to be used by a doctor, extra oxygen supplies, tools for rescuing victims, cutting torches, a gurney and stretchers.

"The doctors of Orinda have estimated a panel of several who are available for emergency calls," Earle said, "and the department always attempts to call a doctor to the scene if the victim's family has not already called one."

"If the doctor believes an ambulance is required, the department can call one of the established ambulance services."

When the rescue unit goes into operation, Earle stressed, scope of services provided by the Fire Department will not be changed.

The rescue unit is a special piece of equipment which makes it possible for the department to be more versatile and do a better job, and at the same time not tie up a fire rig which may be needed elsewhere," Earle said.

The crew volunteers filled 150 burlap sacks with flattened cans, foil and glass found mostly around Bullfrog Lake, a trail center between Union Valley and Cedar Grove in Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Park.

Taking part in the cleanup were three Orindans, Rondal Partridge, Judy Macfarlane and Ted Freedman.

Sleepy Hollow School Carnival Frolic Tomorrow

The kids wil be able to take rides on an old-fashioned fire truck, imported especially for the occasion from Martinez, and on a motorized "locomotive" and its caboose when the annual Sleepy Hollow Parents Club carnival begins at 11 a.m. tomorrow on the school grounds.

With myriads of booths being made ready, to be staffed by youngsters themselves, that's just part of the fun in store, according to the carnival co-chairmen, the Mesdames Julian Unruh and Fred Cranshaw.

EVER SHAVE a balloon without breaking it? You'll have a chance to try at the carnival. This trick consists of spreading lather on balloon, then removing it with a razor. If the balloon doesn't break, you win a prize.

"THIS IS OUR one big money-raising project of the year," said Mrs. Joe Conley, club president. "Funds will be used for whatever the school needs most. It may be playground equipment or library books."

Mrs. Ralph Hickox is chairman in charge of prizes.

Every class in school will have a booth, and booths will be manned by youngsters themselves. Festivities will continue from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

IN CHARGE of booths will be the Mesdames I. G. Grundell, bean bag throw; Paul Gregg, fish pond; R. J. Oaks, checker toss; James Seaman, gun dart; Henry J. Zacharias, fire truck and train ride; R. C. Goelz, make-up booth; Mrs. Fenn J. Wilson, ring-a-pride; Alan Grey, squirt-the-candle-out; Stanley Majka, bowling game; R. E. Wolcott, record breaker.

Johannessen, shave-a-balloon; Oliver Pearson, soft drinks and popcorn; John W. Rieser, country store; James Squire, cake walk; Gwendolyn Browning, cup cakes and popsicles; Fred W. Elkington Jr., hot dogs and coffee; Mrs. Carl Rasmussen Jr., games.

The general meeting of the Orinda Union School Parents Club was held last night at the school auditorium. Guest speaker was Dr. Melvin Calvin, professor of chemistry and director of the Bio-Organic Division of the Radiation Laboratory at the University of California.

Dr. Calvin attended the international conference of "The Origin of Life" in Russia in August of this year and had the opportunity to travel extensively behind the iron curtain near Moscow and Leningrad.

Open House, Fund Drive Planned By Orinda AFS

Discussion at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce meeting October 7 at Casa Orinda revolved inda Open House held recently with the possibility that it will become an annual affair.

Al Baer, chairman of the merchants committee, reported on the attendance at many of the open house exhibits and suggested that the Open House become a standing institution in the community.

PRESIDENT JOHN Ogden noted that "Orindans like to maintain a small town atmosphere and attend such functions as the Open House where there is no axe to grind."

He also suggested that it be made an annual affair. The chamber will study the possibility and report on it in the future.

Secretary Clarence Betz reported that over 250 junior fire marshal badges were presented at the fire house and that the following exhibits drew crowds of happy visitors:

American Trust Company, 500; Ogden's Teen Togs, 934 signatures for a drawing; Sprouse-Reitz used 15 gallons of punch; Village Shoe Shop gave away 1500 pop-guns to youngsters and used up 800 paper punch cups. Central Valley Bank drew approximately 1200 signatures for free savings bonds.

BAER REPORTED that the merchant's committee spent a total of $225 on the Open House exclusive of what individual chamber members spent.

He reported that the merchant's committee will consider the possibility of printing invitations to the opening of the Orinda Library and asked merchants to cooperate in using the invitations as stuffers in their bills.

Stan Allen reported that the joint committee of the chamber and the Orinda Garden Club on landscaping would meet October 9 to discuss an accelerated tree planting program in the business district.

ALLEN EXPRESSED the hope that trees can be planted this year so that a whole "growing season" will not be lost, and warned chamber members that "financial and possibly physical help" would probably be needed within the next two months.

He also expressed the possibility that the Village section would join in the program, which at present is restricted to the Crossroads area.

A letter from Dr. Wilbur Thomas was read in which he asked that the chamber offer its comments on his proposal to lease the bottom half of his professional building at 77 Moraga Way to a business or businesses other than professional, which now occupy the top half of the structure.

DR. THOMAS said that he had encountered difficulty in leasing the lower floors to professional people and would like the support of the community in his efforts to lease that portion of the building to other tenants.

Baer moved that this kind of resolution was beyond the scope of the chamber and that the letter should be returned to Dr. Thomas with notations that it had been read but that the chamber declined to comment.

Allen seconded the motion and suggested that the chamber compliment Dr. Thomas on the fine job of landscaping and leasing that he has done to date and express the opinion that the building is a credit to the community. Chamber members concurred.

Fur Will Fly at Oct. 29 Sun Candidates Night

Election Day, November 4, is looming ever closer and the political fur is beginning to fly in earnest.

It is hoped that there will be some fur left on the candidates who will appear in a "last ditch" stand at The Sun's Candidates Night October 29 at Acalanes High School at 8 p.m.

It will be a busy schedule, but not too busy for the candidates who wish to speak their piece and for the members of the audience who might wish to ask a pointed question or two.

THE EVENING will start with candidates for sheriff, who will appear from 8 p.m. to 8:30, including ample time for rebuttal and questions from the audience.

Candidates for Assemblyman will appear from 8:30 to 9 p.m. and those running for judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District from 9 to 9:30 p.m.

County Superintendent of Schools candidates will speak from 9:30 to 10 p.m. and candidates for Congress will appear at 10 p.m.

A timekeeper from the Mt. Diablo Toastmasters Club with a fast hand on the buzzer will be present to see that no candidate exceeds his alloted 10 minutes at the microphone.

In addition, each candidate will be allowed rebuttal time after his opponent has spoken.

A QUESTION and answer period will be held after each set of candidates has spoken, when written questions from the audience will be accepted.

Since this candidates night will be held just preceding the November 4 elections, this will, in all probability, be your last chance to meet the candidates personally.

Why not come on out and watch the fur fly?

Call to Include 1000 Listeners Coast-to-Coast

A group of East Bay alumni of the California Institute of Technology took part in a coast-to-coast telephone call October 7, in which some 1000 people were "on the line."

The telephone conference call was the largest of its kind to originate on the west coast.

From his Pasadena home, Caltech President Dr. Lee A. DuBridge placed the call to groups of alumni gathered in 33 cities across the country. He reported to them on progress of the Institute's campaign to raise $16,100,000 for new school buildings and raises in faculty salaries.

The East Bay group listened to the call at the home of James J. Halloran, 59 Hillcrest Drive, Orinda. Halloran, vice president and chief engineer of the Electro Engineering Works in San Leandro, has been named chairman of the Berkeley alumni group supporting the fund-raising campaign.

Dance Classes Sponsored By Orinda Art Center

Under the sponsorship of the Orinda Art Center, a troupe of performing modern dancers is being assembled by Lynda Robinson from experienced youngsters between the ages of 12 and 16. The first meeting will be held October 28 from 4:15 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Orinda Grammar School auditorium.

Mrs. Robinson, who holds a master's degree in dance from Mills College, instructs over 300 young people in Lafayette and Orinda in regular dance classes. Her plan for this new group will include more advanced and imaginative methods, with concertizing the aim of the entire endeavor.

Since the first concert is scheduled for spring of 1959, work will be conducted within several specified themes suitable for programming, all dance talents being employed, flexibility, expressiveness, skill in choreography, dramatic flair, and simple ability to execute dance patterns properly.

At least one year of dance training is required, girls with dance workshop experience being preferred. A short, five-week probationary period is expected to organize the troupe sufficiently to enable Mrs. Robinson to embark on concert material by the first of the year. Cost of the five-week session will be $4.50.

Weekly meetings will comprise forty-five minutes of dance technique, followed by a one-hour production class. Interested dancers may call Lynda Robinson at THornwall 1-4429 or Trudie Cook at CLifford 4-3701.

New Series of Mental Health Plays Available Through Mental Group

Three of a series of plays are available for presentation throughout Central and Eastern Contra Costa according to Victor Guthrie, education chairman of the Mental Health Association of Contra Costa, a United Crusade agency.

Two of the plays were presented and were well received in the spring and are entitled "Random Target" and "Scattered Showers." "The Room Upstairs" was added to the repertoire and was rehearsed by the cast during the past few months.

"SINCE EVERYONE recognizes that mental health is the nation's health problem, our association is working locally and through the national association to promote better understanding for the mentally or emotionally ill," Mrs. Hans Wendell, president said.

"Through our play workshop we are endeavoring to dramatize some of the ills and what can be done about them. We hope that many organizations — church, service or professional — will make full use of the Circle Players' efforts."

The Circle Players are under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Heiges of Pleasant Hill.

Cast members include Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brisley, Mrs. Paul Shad, Mrs. Paul E. Roake, Mrs. Perry Brandes, Rick Brandes, Mrs. John Carroll, William Mustard, Larry Nixon, Mrs. Ben Shephard, Mrs. Charles D. Wagner, Mrs. Edwin Cheadle, Mrs. A. C. Peck, Mrs. Ethel Peratt, Mrs. Edward Piel, Mrs. Frances Showalter and Mrs. R. J. Duagan.

Mrs. Prentiss Combs is chairman of the discussion groups following the presentation.

The plays are part of the Program Bureau's activities. Other phases include films and speakers. Other educational aspects of the Crusade beneficiary's program include forums, workshops, library and pamphlets on many phases of mental health.

The Mental Health Society has as part of its community services referral information for those seeking aid for emotional problems or mental illness.

Volunteers to serve and visit at hospitals; the promotion of increased and better treatment; counseling and rehabilitation services on a county and state level; support of research and professional training programs are all underway.

A neighborhood unit program consisting of interested persons in the Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and Orinda areas has recently been organized.

Plans are to expand to the Pittsburg-Antioch and Martinez communities. The groups meet informally for educational and volunteer activities of the society.

THROUGH FUNDS received from United Crusade, the association maintains offices at 2030 North Main, Walnut Creek, and employs a half time professional.

School Bus Service Plan Told at Meet

A plan that would allow school districts to reinstate the former level of school bus transportation and at the same time provide substantial tax savings, was described Wednesday night as part of the proposal of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

George M. Taylor, administrative officer of the district, speaking to central county residents, said the plan would relieve central Contra Costa County school districts from a large part of the financial burden of providing transportation to school children.

"BEIDES RELIEVING school districts from a tremendous financial load, the plan would still allow the districts to continue operating school transportation at the former level," Taylor said.

Under the plan, the transit district would operate special bus routes as requested by the school districts, and collect a 5 or 10 cent fare. The difference between collected revenues and the costs of operation would be made up by the school districts.

"Our program would allow school districts to transfer some of the cost of the service to those who use it," Taylor pointed out, "yet the fares would be sufficiently low so as not to represent a financial burden for the parents whose children use the service.

THE TRANSIT official said the transit district is the only agency which can operate the service under such an agreement.

He explained that at present school districts contracting for school bus service must pay the entire expense. Otherwise, private carriers must obtain a certificate from the State Public Utilities Commission and then charge a fare high enough to cover all operating expenses.

The service could be started with the beginning of the school year next September providing the transit district gets into operation, Taylor said.

HE EXPLAINED that operation by the district depends upon approval of a $16,900,000 bond issue at the November general election.

Proceeds from the bonds would be used to purchase equipment and other operating facilities.

Taylor said that engineering and financial studies have determined that revenues from operation will be sufficient to pay all operating costs, build up a fund to replace equipment as it becomes obsolete, and pay off the bonds without an increase in fares or taxes.

Swedish Parents Express Thanks For AFS Program

A letter from Erik and Marget Persson, expressing their appreciation for the hospitality shown their daughter, Agneta, an American Field Service Exchange student from Avesta, Sweden, who stayed with the Charles Erickson family last year, has been received by Mrs. Sigurd Groennings, chairman of the Orinda AFS Committee.

The letter declares:

"My wife and I want to express our heartfelt thanks for the wonderful year our daughter, Agneta, spent in Orinda for one year, possible by the AFS organization.

"The whole year in U.S.A. has been a great experience for her, and I am sure for all the young people who have had the privilege to have the AFS scholarship in America. We have felt quite sure that everything has been arranged in the best way, and we know that our Neti has always met a splendid hospitality and generosity, which we always will be thankful for.

"She was very happy in her American family, and she also felt at home at school and had many friends there.

"We thank you, Mrs. Groennings, especially, so much for all interest, understanding and hospitality that you have given our Neti. She speaks very often of you and is very grateful to you.

"We wish you in AFS all good and success in the future in your important work for foreign students."

School Sickness Rumors Refuted

Rumors of a high percentage of flu and "walking pneumonia" cases in Central Contra Costa County schools were flatly discounted by school officials yesterday.

The Sun learned that in the Orinda Union School District there is "no basis for the rumor."

In Walnut Creek, attendance officials stated that the percentage of absenteeism was "far below normal."

In the Mt. Diablo Unified School District and the Lafayette School District, The Sun was informed that teacher and student absenteeism is normal and very few cases of flu have been reported in those districts.

Girl Scouts to Plant Grounds

Senior Girl Scout Troop 128 of Orinda, which recently received the Curved Bar Award, are now waiting for rains so that they can get on with "the planting.

To help beautify the grounds of Twin Canyon Day Camp in Lafayette, they have already gathered poppy seeds from the garden of their leader, Mrs. M. W. Loveland. They will also plant broom seed so that green sticks will be plentiful next year. This is a fast growing plant with numerous uses in outdoors, particularly appreciated for craft work and "cook-outs".

Mrs. W. B. Dunshee is assistant leader. Senior scouts are Joyce Bailey, Susan Dunshee, SuAnne Geandrot, Diane Kersten, Sandra Jones, Rowie Loughman, and Lynn Loveland.

Polio Shots Are Available Next Wednesday

"Every adult, regardless of age, who is in close contact with children, should be immunized against polio", Dr. H. L. Blum, County Health Officer, said as he announced the next Health Department Immunization clinic for the Walnut Creek area.

Dr. Blum pointed out that polio immunizations for adults are just as important as those for children. He added that immunizations should be obtained from one's own private physician, who keeps a complete record of all medical services and needs.

Health Department clinics are maintained to serve those who would have difficulty in obtaining these services privately.

The County Health Department's Immunization Clinic for the Walnut Creek area will be held at the Veterans Hall, 1250 Locust Street, from 2 to 4:45 p.m., on Wednesday.

In addition to polio vaccinations, immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox are available.

Those 13 years of age and under must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Those 14 to 21 must have a Health Department consent form signed by their parent or guardian. Adults may receive polio, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox immunizations.

Rapid Transit District Supports 2 County Transit District Issue

Support given to the transit development plan of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District by the larger five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District emphasizes the strong need for improving local East Bay transit now, John R. Worthington, general manager of the two-county district said today.

Worthington agreed with directors of the five-county district that only by an immediate highly developed local East Bay transit operation can the necessary traffic be built up and assured when the rapid transit district gets into operation 7 to 10 years from now.

THE TWO-COUNTY transit program will be submitted to the voters of the district at the November election in the form of a $16,900,000 bond issue to purchase new equipment and other facilities.

It will appear on the ballot as Proposition B.

Worthington said that in supporting the two-county program the rapid transit district has "materially helped to speed the day when people will leave their cars at home in favor of a fast, comfortable and convenient public transit operation."

THE TRANSIT official was referring to a policy statement adopted by the five-county district directors which stressed the complementary nature of the two transit districts and underscored the fact that the two districts should work together for the improvement of public transit.

Worthington pinpointed the difference between the two districts noting that the five-county, rapid transit district aims to provide a regional system of interurban rail rapid transit.

"The function of the two-county district is to provide greatly expanded and improved express and local bus transportation in the East Bay, and interim transbay express service until the five-county high speed rail system is in operation," he said.

ENGINEERS OF the two-county district firmly believe that new buses of advanced design and riding comfort, plus new and improved service that is planned by the district will reverse the downward trend in East Bay transit patronage.

"It has been evident for some years that a public transit operation capable of attracting riders will not be provided by existing private companies," Worthington said.

He added:

"PASSAGE OF the two-county district's $16,900,000 bond issue at the November election will benefit the 1,250,000 residents of the district almost immediately and help to build up transit patronage for the future rapid transit lines."

Engineering and financial studies have determined that the bond issue will provide the necessary funds without an increase in taxes and at lower local fares, he noted.

The Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, in coordinating its plans with the larger five-county district, has drawn up a transit program to purchase a fleet of new air-conditioned buses plus other facilities required for operation including a part of Key System and Western Greyhound equipment and property.

The program will give new service to more than 100,000 residents of the district not presently served by public transit.

Worthington said that with passage of the bond issue, the two-county district could be in operation by the middle of next year.

A MOTHER AND HER FIVE CHILDREN plummeted over a cliff Tuesday on Moraga Road near Madrone Drive south of Lafayette. Two children were killed and two others were seriously injured. The car is now resting on the service road where it landed before going over a second embankment, rear center, and hit a tree. The car toppled a total of 175 feet. —Sun photo

Bids Called for Traffic Signal Erection on PH Road

Bids are to be opened October 28 in the office of the State Division of Highways in San Francisco, for a proposed traffic signal installation at the intersection of the westbound freeway off-ramp and Pleasant Hill Road near Lafayette.

The installation will alleviate congestion at this location and facilitate traffic movements from the freeway destined for the Lafayette area from the east, according to B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer.

The proposed signal installation will be a fully traffic-actuated two-phase density type system, together with pedestrian walk control.

This type of signal system controls traffic in two movements or phases.

The "green time" allocated to each phase is determined by the density of traffic on the roadways entering the intersection.

This density is measured by impulses received at the controller from treadles actuated by traffic in the approaching roadways.

Work will start in approximately two weeks from the date bids are opened and a time limit of 45 working days has been allowed for completion of the project.

The estimated cost is approximately $17,000.

'60 Census May Create Municipal Court—Mrs. Rahn

Mrs. Betsy FitzGerald Rahn, candidate for the judgeship of the Walnut Creek Judicial District, clarified this week what she fears is a misconception held by many of the residents who will go to the polls, November 4.

"The opposition has hinted, and I'm afraid many people may believe that I am in favor of an early change in the status of the court from a judicial court to a municipal court.

"This is not correct, and I have several times stated that whether it is a judicial or a municipal court is purely a matter governed by state law," Mrs. Rahn continued.

"The state law provides that where it is officially established that the judicial district population is over 40,000, the court shall automatically become a municipal court.

"Now, in the light of figures given by recent postal surveys, which indicate that some 72,000 people in this judicial district are served, I feel that the 1960 Federal census will show a census figure of well over 40,000.

"Then the court would become municipal, automatically. This is not a matter of approval or disapproval by any individual. It will be a matter of fact if so determined by the census."

Mrs. Rahn continued that there are three ways to officially establish population for this purpose.

1. A special census ordered by the Board of Supervisors. This seems unlikely, she said.
2. A test case, such as the one which established a municipal court in Concord last year.
3. The federal census.

Highway Cleanup Committee Meets

The Contra Costa County Highway Cleanup Committee met yesterday in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors, according to Supervisor Warren G. Buchanan, chairman.

The committee considered a report from Rudd Sellar of the district attorney's office on the usefulness and accomplishments of the "anti-litter reward ordinances" which have been adopted in Los Angeles and other jurisdictions.

This is the ordinance under which persons responsible for apprehending violators of litter laws are paid rewards.

2 County Search Underway For Road Hog Killer of 2

A two-county search is underway by law enforcement agencies for a motorist who forced a car with a mother and her five children off a cliff. Two children were killed and two others were seriously injured.

The accident Tuesday happened approximately two miles south of Lafayette on Moraga Road near Madrone Drive.

MRS. MARY HELEN Stockton, 36, 585 Hughes Drive, Concord, was returning from the site of the family's new home in Orinda late in the afternoon when the unknown "Road Hog" rounded a sharp S curve on the wrong side of the road and forced her over the brink of a 170 foot cliff.

The car landed on a service road approximately 75 feet below the road, bounced and turned end over end down another embankment and careened into a tree 75 feet below.

After hitting the tree, the car, bearing only three passengers, the mother and two children, skidded another 20 feet downhill into a shallow creek.

Killed, when thrown out of the car after landing on the service road, were Lissa Ann Stockton, 6, and Darrell Dean Stockton, 2.

TAKEN TO Children's Hospital in Oakland by ambulance with head injuries and internal injuries, according to the California Highway Patrol, were Harrison Stockton, 7, Clifton, 4½ and Bettina Sue, 9

Funeral services for the two children were held yesterday at the Chapel of the Valley in Lafayette. Inurnment was at Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

Mrs. Stockton's condition was at first reported to be serious by hospital officials, but later the report was issued that her condition was "satisfactory."

SHE IS THE wife of Earl D. Stockton, San Francisco accountant.

Highway Patrol officers noted that an extensive search was being made for the person who forced Mrs. Stockton off the road. Bulletins were issued to other law enforcement agencies to assist in the search.

New Motor Coach to Turn Ride Tide: Worthington

A new kind of air-conditioned motor coach people will find pleasurable to ride, plus faster and more convenient service, is going to turn the tide on dwindling East Bay transit patronage, according to the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

Air-conditioning, which has proven a success on long-haul bus service, will be used for the first time on the Pacific Coast by the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District for transit and suburban travel.

NEW EQUIPMENT for the East Bay also will include wider and deeply upholstered seats with arm rests, bright and colorful interiors, greater spacing between seats, overhead storage space for bundles, special window design to permit maximum outside vision for each passenger, a substantially improved airglide suspension system which insures a smooth ride, and fast acceleratioon, the district said.

Charles E. De Leuw, internationally recognized transit engineer whose firm, De Leuw, Cather & Company, recently completed a mass transit plan for the district, believes that the new equipment and improved service will induce more people to leave their cars at home.

Crippling traffic congestion on streets and freeways, as a result, would be partly eliminated; residents, who could move about the East Bay with greater convenience and comfort, would benefit, and downtown business and property values would expand, he said.

THE HEAVY populated regions in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, in turn, would become better places in which to live and work, according to the noted engineering consultant.

De Leuw said this new approach to encouraging public transit riding will reverse today's downward trend in the number of riders using existing East Bay transportation facilities.

"A five per cent drop in Key System riders over the last two years can be fully offset by the increase in traffic which we predict will result from the substantially improved transit service recommended," De Leuw said. He predicted another increase of three per cent in riders during the second year of district operation.

"INCREASED patronage which will inevitably result from the vastly improved service proposed will improve the financial picture from year to year," he said.

A $16,900,000 bond issue to finance the transit project will be weighed by district voters at the November 4 general elections.

Engineering and financial studies made by the De Leuw firm have determined that the bond issue will provide the necessary funds without an increase in taxes and at lower local fares. Revenue will be sufficient to retire the bonds out of transit district income, the De Leuw report states.

THE EXTENSIVE transit program proposed will give new service to more than 100,000 residents of the two-county district not presently served by public transit.

The fleet of new equipment of latest design and styling will be used on all district lines. A major portion of the transbay service and new East Bay inter-city express routes will be served by the superior design of diesel bus that is still on the drawing board De Leuw said.

In addition to 334 new buses, the district proposes to purchase 276 postwar buses owned by Key System, and 40 buses used by Western Greyhound Lines.

THESE BUSES will be completely modernized and refurbished. The inexpensive but thorough rehabilitation and colorization program will sufficiently improve these buses to augment the new equipment during rush hour service De Leuw said.

Equipment costs include $7,900,000 for the 334 new buses, and $3,700,000 for the acquisition of the used vehicles. The remaining $5,300,000 of the bond issue amount will be used to acquire bus maintenance and storage terminals in Emeryville, East Oakland, Richmond, Hayward and Concord.

Dent, Nielsen, Dambacher See Defense System

Mel Nielsen, county supervisor, James Dent, superintendent, Mt. Diablo Unified School District, and Arthur D. Dambacher, Civil Defense Coordinator Acalanes High School District, were among a contingent of Northern California officials who completed a civil defense tour this weekend in the Colorado area.

The group visited NORAD (North American Air Defense) for an insight into the North American defense operation and radar network.

NORAD is the nerve center of the air defense activities for both United States and Canada.

ALL OF THE radar networks, including those maintained and operated in Alaska, Canada and ringing the continental United States, report their sighting of unidentified air craft to this Colorado Springs headquarters.

According to Dambacher the NORAD part of the tour, "gave local Civil Defense officials a broad view of continental air defense techniques and emphasized the need for effective local community civil defense procedures in the national setup."

It was announced that 15 residents of the Walnut Creek area completed the 8 hour Basic Civil Defense Course on October 13, and were awarded the Certificate of Completion.

THE FOUR sessions were held ta the Walnut Heights School on four Monday evenings. Eleanor R. Daly, CD coordinator of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense & Disaster was instructor.

The course was sponsored by the PTA of Walnut Heights School. Mrs. Jean DeFazio, parent education chairman, and Mrs. Renee Ravitt, Civil Defense chairman, made the arrangements.

Completing the course were Gaspare and Jean DeFazio, Joseph and Jackie Frost, Elaine Hinkson, Lillian Johanek, Mrs. Cyril H. Jones, Mrs. F. L. Perryman, Renee Ravitt, Gloria Salonen, Nancy Simison, Curtis W. Wright, Charles Tompkins and LeRoy and Lorraine Soltau.

State Senator Breed Named Head Of Transit District Bond Boosters

Senator Arthur H. Breed, Jr., long identified as one of California's foremost authorities on highway legislation, was named today as general chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Transit, sponsors of the $16,900,000 transit issue for the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District on the November 4 ballot.

Noting that the present public transportation facilities in Alameda and Contra Costa counties are failing to keep pace with tremendous growth in population, Breed declared that activation of the transit district is mandatory.

ADOPTION OF THE bond issue will provide "the necessary funds without an increase in taxes and at reduced local fares," he said. Engineering and financial studies have determined that the bonds can be retired out of transit district income and at lower local fares than now in effect.

"In addition, the bond issue will permit the transit district to replace Key System and Western Greyhound operations with new, improved and expanded service in the two counties as early as the middle of next year," he said.

Breed, who will retire from the State Senate the end of this year after serving the people of the East Bay for 24 years, sponsored the legislation which permitted residents of Alameda and Contra Costa counties to establish the transit district two years ago.

BREED SAID he accepted the citizens committee appointment with a "firm conviction that East Bay highways must be augmented by an up-to-date and progressive transit operation that the people will ride if our cities and surrounding communities are to prosper.

"Public transit facilities have critically deteriorated over the past years," Breed observed. He added that people of the two East Bay counties now have a "golden opportunity to help assure continued growth and economic development by equipping themselves with a badly needed system of adequate mass transportation."

Breed is a life long resident of Oakland and for many years has been a leader in affairs of both Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. His appointment was announced by Robert K. Barber, president of the board of directors of the transit district, who declared:

"SENATOR BREED'S great wealth of knowledge and experience in dealing with problems of transportation, coupled with his grave concern over the breakdown in mass transit facilities, should cause every responsible-thinking citizen in the East Bay to review carefully the district's proposal to better transit operations."

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

When you think about national defense, you may not think of telephones right away. Fact is, though, you'll find phone lines at the heart of our defense setup. For instance, long-range bomber bases of the Strategic Air Command depend on phone lines for trigger-fast communication; and in our test centers, like the one shown above, we keep a never-ending watch on these vital communications pathways. Phone lines also keep the Air Defense Command in split-second touch with missile launching sites. Telephone men from the Pacific West have also helped build other defense communications systems. We're happy that our people can help—in these and many more ways—to keep the U.S. strong.

Pledge Your Fair Share of Happiness . . .

It's United Crusade time and activity in Contra Costa County continues to mount in support of one big give. Ninety-one cents of every dollar pledged in Contra Costa County remains with our own health, welfare and youth agencies. These agencies provide guidance and recreation for our youth and aid for our sick, aged and handicapped. Hundreds of volunteers work without pay on this great civic effort contributing to the continued happiness and welfare of our community. Our support of the United Crusade is the most economic means of safeguarding our democratic heritage, so when a friend, neighbor or business associate asks for your gift donation be happy and proud that you have pledged YOUR FAIR SHARE.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

The Babbitt & the Bromide

AH, Suburbia! Where if you're not on your way to Europe, you're on your way to the Poor House . . . Where wives make MOST of the social dates and their men just make the most of it! Where, if you travel a certain social circuit, you see the same people day out, day in exchanging the same niceties day out, day in, and will STILL be exchanging the same small talk, year out, year in, forevermore! Like The Babbitt & The Bromide.

WHERE, IF YOU'RE an early shopper, you see all the other methodical ones, but if you're a late customer, you bump into all your same unsystematic sisters, who like you, (Who, ME?) start thinking about dinner at half past five. Where you have so much on your matriarchal mind, you can't remember WHERE you parked the car and this just KILLS the clerks, course they're too polite to show it!

SUBURBIA! Where the homey housewife, in her little Magnin modes, sits on her patio planning her daily menu . . . of pate de fois, artichoke hearts, smoked oysters, a case of Schweppes? Where the Hausfrau-Highbrow in her jaunty Jaguar, makes the daily rounds doing her duty for her favorite charity, The Hungry Children of Hangipangi, while her own famished family wonders where THEIR next meal is coming from . . . Where, pimple-faced darlings & dimple-faced dowagers are always going on diets—until the next dessert comes along!

The Telephone & the Gas Tank

WHERE A TANK full of gas disappears right under your nose . . . looking for a place to park or chauffeuring the Lilliputs to dancing lessons, haircuts, golf & riding lessons, art classes, Brownie trips. While Junior, the newest baby boyful, sits in his little sateen car seat, NOT so joyful, joggling his head back & forth & wondering just WHAT kind of a crazy world or family has he been born into. If he cries, Poor Darling, we'll pick up a little stuffed Steiff animal ($10.95) for him at the toy store . . . Something to match his House Beautiful Nursery WHERE it was never meant he might regurgitate—or expectorate—that cold bottle of milk that keeps kicking around while Mama's so long at the phone.

SUBURBIA, WHERE it would take more than Alexander G. himself to invent a circuit to service the overloaded wires that burn hot & heavy from one end of town to the other every morning, ANY morning, Sunday excepted, between 9 & 10.

SUBURBIA, WHERE the children start young, judging NOT the size of the cookie jar, but the size of the electronic kitchen & who has or hasn't wall-to-wall carpeting . . . Where even the kids echo their parents' cries of "Too Much To Do" while we adults spend our time scheming up still MORE new diversions for them!

WHERE THE SUBURBAN MALE, distinguished & smooth skinned, nifty & natty five days a wk. winds up on the wkend. Wallace Berry-like in his old salty dungarees. And don't you DARE throw them out! Where same superior man, whose business acumen is worth VIPositions, admits he's buffaloed when it comes to ratchets & grommets & replacing that frenitch on the leaky faucet . . . WHERE the Sunday Hum of activity at the local Hardware Story generates the jollity of an old-time General Store and if you can't get waited on, you see EVERYBODY, swap a few stories & catch up on what's cooking in town. Or maybe you get yours w/coffee every morn at T-Bones which seems to have replaced the corner-grocery for gossips & blabfests!

A Tough Day at the Bridge Table

Where, if the Little Woman describes her day as "Simply Exhausting!", it means the bout of bridge lasted almost til' dinnertime, the cheese cake was too rich and she drank too much coffee . . . WHERE the Sunday Hum of activity at the local Hardware Store lights behind them, dashing home in the dusk, the Breadwinner BACK from his day of 3-hr. Expense Acct. lunches, home to his meal of Hamburger & Hotdogs!

AH, Suburbia! Where Hectic but Happy we are! Hopeful that the children we lavish Too Much On and smother w/too much of this Togetherness Stuff will grow up to understand that we read too many books and got confused w/Too Many Phases & Authorities to follow . . . Where if you miss a Room Meeting, you feel you've set a precedent and your dear boy or girl will suffer a psychosis because Mama wasn't there . . . Where, having moved to the country-atmosphere we dwell in, we worry & fret MORE about traffic, teenagers & terrible things than if we lived in the heart of a throbbing metropolis. Like the man at the party once said "I've never lived in such a wonderful place I haven't had a chance to enjoy."

Time to Start Stuffing the Closets

CHRISTMAS IS ONLY 70 days away and just to prove it, Circle 3 ladies of the Community Church Women's Guild had a pleasant little party last Tues. at the Joseph Long home in Sleepy Hollow. Santas & Snowball trees, potholders & beanbags gay were offered for sale, it being time to start stuffing the closets w/Christmas surprises.

At the entry of the white-bricked New Orleans-type home, Chrmn. Millie Twining & hostess Vera May Long . . . Juanita Turnbull dispensing nametags, chatting w/Eleanor Jackson who was due soon for kitchen-duty. At the long tea table, Hanna Teiche, Idress Abbott, Catherine Blossom taking turns at pouring . . . Compliments to Lillian Graff whose clown dolls, from among her homemade rag doll collection, were the hit of the Little Bazaar.

GLIMPSED . . . Mary Dorr taking an armful of toys & trees out to the car, SHE excited w/plans for their new MALIBU home . . . Edith Breed & Hazel Groves a duo, many inquiries of the latter's dghtr. Frances' debut w/the SFOpera this season . . . Margorie Worrell w/a chic short hairdo, introducing her sister who was visiting from across the Bay . . . Gussie Jeffries putting out a handsome array of her specialty—pear conserve and SAME swapped up by Sally James, Alvina Oliphant, Emma Usinger, Ora Traynor, Donna Skaggs to mention a few around the display table.

That Certain Smile to be Missed

ALOHA . . . to Bobbie & Ken McLaren who sailed leisurely last Mon. on the Matsonia for the Islands and a new home for them & a reunion w/HER family . . . Bobbie beaming her prettiest recently when the Orioles meet turned into a Surprise Farewell for her, members ALL gifting her w/a handsome Gadabout bag, Italian duffel style, plus a pretty wallet tucked inside. The Bon Voyaging bid her at Liz Folliard's w/Bea Stringer, Rene Kennedy, Reva Ward, Dorothy Fowler, pres., Marian Thompson, Louise Quinn, Vera Berry, Lola Tebbs, SOME of those on hand.

GETTING OUT OF TOWN (the only way they get ANY rest) were John & Gertrude Ogden who flew off to Phoenix last wk. . . . Bud & Pat Loughman played at Pebble Beach during a Glassmakers Convention and George & Ann Lenz of Camino Encinas were salubriating at a Palm Springs Spa. A Bewitching party is what they're calling their cocktail party, the Fred Busseys, who have issued invitations for one to precede a dinner-detour to Richmond Country Club. Former Sausalitans, Ed & Wanda Senze (we have a Senz to rhyme w/Lenz now!) are newly-ensconced in the Camino Sobrante house owned by Dentist Gene Garbarino's dad, a Col. in the Army who is stationed at Presidio. The Senzes (he's a Pediatrician) have twin girls, Margaret & Joan, aged 4, and Douglas, 6, who attends Orinda School. And this particular house has the distinction of two addresses—the delivery walk, etc. being at 124 Camino Sobrante, the mailbox being at 29 Via Farallon, and the milkman, mailman et al are finally getting used to this crazy beat!

"FORTY PLUS & FANCY FREE" is the intriguing subject chosen by the handsome lady of wit & humor, Emily Kimbrough when she guest-speaks at the San Rafael Military Academy's Mothers Club social at the Claremont Tuesday, Oct. 28. Some of those already swooping up tickets for the 1:30 Dessert Luncheon ($3.00 per) are Virginia Hunter, Virla Kratz, Mary Dorr & her mother Harper Wright and you may reserve yours by calling Jean Smith at CL 4-5838.

COME & GIVE A FRIENDLY American Hi or Hello to our Foreign Exchange students next Mon. nite in the Miramonte Cafeteria, 8 PM . . . EVERYONE is welcome to attend the American Field Service Open House & you can visit our students' countries, Switzerland & Norway, via colored movies obtained through the Consulate. You'll enjoy it!

Didja know it was Benny Bufano, Herb Caen & Barnaby Conrad who picked Blanche Brody's oil portrait of her dghtr. Meredith & Teddy Gardner's watercolor BOTH for 1st Prize ribbons at the Flickers Art Tea recently. The gals were floored. THRILLED to their artistic little fingertips. AND JUSTLY PROUD, possibly bursting his buttons, should be Perc Brown, Orinda Community Library Chrmn., for the brand new BEEOOOTIFUL Library is really something to see! Most attractive innovation, an outdoor reading room! Dedication Ceremony set for Nov. 14!

JUST BETWEEN US NATIVES, doesn't the prospect of a new Edy's here bring back Nostalgia? How MANY of us used to sit for hrs. in the famed Oakland icecream parlors—no juke box, no music, just talk & the nerve to be served for one thin dime, get this, a Fresh Lemon Lime Orange Mint Coke—remember?

Clark Kills Bull Elk In Idaho

The high point of a hunting trip into primitive country of Northern Idaho on the Salmon River for Chet Clark of Orinda was killing a bull elk that weighed over 500 pounds.

Accompanied by Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. James McCone of Berkeley, Chet flew into Fieler's Ranch from Boise in an hour and a half.

Except by plane, the only way of getting into the area is by horseback from McCall, a 10-day trip.

Clark was the only member of the party who went huntnig during the two-week stay at the lodge.

"We all caught all the fish we could use every day," Clark said. "It's a really primitive area. The ranch has a small landing strip. For two weeks our only contact with the outside world was by means of a short-wave radio."

Clark learned about the area through Bill Woods, well-known "bush pilot" who flew them there.

Dances After Games? It's A Recurring Dilemma

What are our high school youngsters doing after football games? Do they step out for a bite to eat, a soft drink, and then come home by 10 p.m.?

That is pretty hard to do if you are a young person, it's a Friday night, and you're with the crowd.

Do those sentences above look familiar to you? They well might, because they are identical with the sentences used to start an editorial in The Sun on Friday, October 25, 1957.

And essentially, they say the same things that have been said in other Sun editorials at least once a year for the past 11 years.

What are we "harping" on . . .? After school dances for our high school youngsters on days when football games are held, that's what.

BEFORE WE GO into the old story, we should point out that things have been done, and that they are working, so the situation is not completely hopeless.

But the things that are being done are being done by groups which, essentially, are not as well equipped as the schools to provide the entertainment that our healthy, active youngsters can use after the excitement of a game.

Credit must go to our recreation departments and to the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce. In Lafayette a series of after-game dances is being sponsored by the Jaycees, and they are well attended. Acalanes youngsters enjoy them, and, most important of all, there hasn't been one bit of trouble.

In Walnut Creek the recreation department sponsors dances after each game. It costs the kids 15 cents, but refreshments are provided and they dance to a "live" band provided by the musicians' union.

THESE DANCES are open to the youngsters from both schools, and again, there has never been any trouble.

Pleasant Hill has a similar setup, but the cost is 25 cents per youngster. Both recreation departments report tremendous enthusiasm on the part of the youngsters.

The cost is lower in Walnut Creek because the Walnut Creek Elk's Club helps with the refreshments.

Now all the organizations and agencies are providing a real service for the youngsters, and the last thing we can do is criticize them. They are smart enough to see a need in the community and active and thoughtful enough to step in and try to fill that need.

But we can still see little justification for the stand of the football leagues which have formulated a rule that there will be no dances after league football games.

They maintain that rivalries flare and trouble is liable to start.

There has been no trouble at any of the other locally sponsored dances, and there have been plenty of youngsters attending.

We do feel that the school people are not fulfilling their full responsibility when they duck the issue. True, there is a league rule, but the schools could take this matter into their own hands if they so wished.

OF COURSE, this applies to basketball games, too. Thus the "dancing" season actually coincides with the greater part of the school year.

In all fairness, it is not the sole responsibility of the schools. Certainly parents clubs and high school booster organizations could provide the service.

It still seems to us that the school is the place for a dance after a school function. And football and basketball games are school functions.

Needless to say, the kids want it too. Here is a quote written by a high school girl, which appeared in The Sun last year referring to this same subject.

"FOR SEVERAL years local students have asked for dances following their athletic activities. They have been looking for a place to get together and share opinions, ideas and experiences.

"But these dances were refused to them because local authorities felt they would 'incite trouble.' "

So that's how the kids feel.

Well, there is the problem. We have stated it before, and here we are stating it again.

We hope we won't have to repeat this editorial next year.

Another Jr. College Site?

The Contra Costa Junior College district is investigating the purchase of a 100 acre portion of Camp Stoneman as a possible site for a third campus.

At first glance it appears foolish to start purchasing land for additional campus sites when the two which are existing now, one in Pleasant Hill, the other in Richmond, are far from filled.

HOWEVER, according to junior college officials, the land in the Camp Stoneman area could be purchased for as little as 20 per cent of its fair value, which certainly indicates that it is a bargain.

The junior college board also estimates that somewhere in the middle 1960's, there will be an enrollment potential in that area of approximately 2000 students.

They also point out a need for future sites in light of the following points:

1. High schools are graduating more students, which means a natural increase in the number of junior college students.

2. Junior colleges are getting an increasing percentage of the high school students.

3. Population studies indicate that the Camp Stoneman area of the county is "right" for residential expansion.

THE DISTRICT also estimates that eventually the student population at Diablo Valley College could be from 8000 to 10,000, and the site simply couldn't accommodate that number.

Certainly the board and district officials are to be commended for planning for the future, and for trying to acquire sites as cheaply as possible.

No committments have been made. If the price is right, it appears that it should be acquired.

On the othre hand, it is going to take money and time to build another campus, and there is a lot to be done on the two campuses now functioning.

It will be interesting to watch our higher educational plants develop.

Collisions with fixed objects added 143,080 casualties to the road toll.

Inside Out . . .

Man Is Strictly for the Dogs In a Close Race!

By JOYCE BARNUM

We're not going to the dogs, they're overtaking us.

This is a fact gleaned from a Nielsen Service report. This is the same type of report which influences TV programming, fashions, car styling, housing trends—in short—the American Way of Life.

You may remember a survey conducted by the high priests of Madison Avenue some years back. After sifting the rsults of this survey, a decree was set forth:

THE AVERAGE Intelligence of All Americans Shall Be Set at age 12.

This caused a few flurries of rebellion. But the short-lived outbursts were quelled effectively by the Ivory Tower Powers.

Last week the men of Madison Avenue issued a bit of new dogma. "A dog is nothing more than a four-year-old child with fur."

This gives Man a pretty thin margin.

During the million of years that Man has struggled to advance himself, he has secured a rather shaky footing of just eight years above his best friend.

Reigning Madison Avenue Materialists find that the U.S. dog population has increased by 35 per cent in the past 10 years. Furthermore, dogs have infiltrated 40 per cent of American homes.

DURING THIS ERA, fuzzy minded Man has spent more on food for his furry friend than he has on baby food. And, the seers predict, the next five years will bring about an additional 30 per cent rise in furry- four-year-old food sales.

Now we'd like to make some predictions.

This time the Frankensteins of Fetish have created a monster which will be their undoing.

Man, long since enslaved by his grey flannel suited masters, has spent the past decade aiding in the up-grading of the dog. While Man labored under stresses and strains almost behind his endurance to obey the dictates of the Agency Men, dogs have lived an increasingly better life.

MAN ATE RICH foods and drank fiery beverages. He then acted to counter the after-effects of his excesses by downing anti-acid fizzes and tranquilizing pills.

Meanwhile, dogs' diet improved to the point where a manufacturer of dog food wistfully stated, "If humans could eat one balanced food such as we now feed to our pets, we'd add years to our life and life to our years."

Well, there you are.

Poor old Man has humped along, witlessly beguiled by the dissonant, off-beat pipings of the Commercial Caste.

But can you picture any dog accepting the slogans of Salesdom as Truth?

FRENZIED SKULL-sessions will produce gems the like of, "Keep Up yith the Boxers!" "Don't be a mongrel, pedigrees furnished with each and every purchase."

The "dog eat dog" memos from the Mottomen will be greeted with the good-natured ridicule they so richly deserve. Comes the revolution, and we'll look to the dogs for a way of life.

Come, on, Towser!

Letters to The Editor

REAL ESTATE
DEAR EDITOR:

On behalf of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board . . . may I extend a special thanks to The Sun for the superb job that was done on the spread of the opening of our new building.

R. WAYNE BAILEY

GAS STATIONS
DEAR EDITOR:

It was most amazing to find that your newspaper, the recipient of many awards for community service, advocates the return of the cartel system and limited competition (Your editorial—October 10th—"THIS IS A GASSER").

If the neon lights bother people, the answer is to control signs but not the number of stations. If the stations look like tin cans (and I'm surprised that you don't recall the junk stations that were here 10 years ago—most have been rebuilt—and which we would still have if there was no competition) then the answer is to control the type of building as has been accomplished in Orinda.

But for a newspaper that usually works for the benefit of its readers, you are going the wrong direction in advocating master economic planning, cartel approaches and limited competition.

If you are familiar with the reports of the Board of Equalization you wouold realize the basic reason behind more and larger gas stations is that your readers are buying more gasoline, more items through gas stations, driving more cars per family—and there are more of them in the area.

Since we keep gas stations out of the residential areas, they increase in numbers in the business areas.

The State Board of Equalization reports only sales subject to sales tax — and this does not include gasoline. But during the period from 1952 to 1957 the number of gas stations in Contra Costa County increased from 360 to 445 —an increase of 23 per cent. The total sales (taxable) increased from $11,162,000 to $24,044,000. The taxable sales per station increased from $31,000 per year to $54,000 per year—76 per cent. This explains why more stations are being built.

I don't recall a single gas station that has stayed empty long—nor am I aware of any bankruptcies or going broke sales. The stations that are operated by independents seem to continue to operate and some have been here for years with the same ownership. This is in spite of your great fears.

Our competitive system still works pretty well—to date it has done better than any master planners. It still can use controls such as signs, building construction, and the like — and the area can only blame itself for being unable to provide such control. They could have incorporated a long time ago.

BOB KAHN

(ED. NOTE: Gas stations are still taking the most valuable corners of our commercially zoned property, and it still appears that there are too many of them in our communities.)

PROPOSITION 2
DEAR EDITOR:

I think that the idea of the state helping out the capital outlay expense of school construction is no longer a controversial issue. I know that without this help from the state for school construction it would have been utterly impossible for the taxpayers of the district to have coped with the school housing needs brought on by the rapid growth of the area.

I hope that you will be inclined to support Proposition 2.

Endorsing Candidates Is a Difficult Task

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

I know you have troubles of your own. But today let me talk about our problems—in having to decide between candidates as The Sun's recommendations for the November 4 election.

Believe me, it is a tough job. First of all, it is time consuming. Yes, I realize this is a newspaperman's job; nevertheless, it takes lots of time. I and/or other members of the staff have interviewed the following candidates at least once and sometimes two or three times:

Senator Bill Knowland and Attorney General Pat Brown. Brown, accompanied by Jerry Waldie, came into the office Tuesday afternoon and we chatted.

Lt. Gov. Butch Powers and Democrat challenger Glenn Anderson. Governor Goodwin Knight and Congressman Clair Engle. Two of us talked to Engle and Knowland at a recent editor's conference.

State Controller Robert Kirkwood and his Democrat opponent Alan Cranston. State Treasurer Ron Button. Congressman Pat Hillings, GOP, running against Judge Stanley Mosk, democrat, for attorney general.

Look at the state campaigns

The Sun's policy is not to endorse candidates for these state offices. Last week, however, I discussed the reasons why Judge Mosk should be elected attorney general. But, there is an important point we should not overlook in voting for state officials. If a man is doing a good job, he should not be defeated just because he is a republican or democrat.

I'll phrase it another way. Some of our incumbent state officials, mostly republican, have been very good. They face defeat in the predicted democrat landslide. Unfortunately, some of the democrat candidates are completely inexperienced, some without qualification. Even top democrats are unhappy with some of the men on their ticket. Let's vote the man—not the party.

In the local races, we have talked to every candidate for supervisor, justice of peace, assemblyman, congressman, sheriff and county superintendent of schools. This week, for example, a second discussion was held with each of the candidates for sheriff.

A political parade

Last week I talked with Ralph Harris, candidate for county school superintendent, for nearly two hours and with Jerry Waldie, candidate of assemblyman, for over two hours. Last week E.B.M.U.D. Director Harold Saunders and Board President Louis Bruener came in and we discussed the policies of the East Bay Municipal Utility District. They are running for re-election.

Then, Saturday Dan Luten, a chemist, discussed at some length the park and conservation problems of the East Bay and why he is running for the E.B.M.U.D. Board against Saunders. Bruener is opposed by Anga Bjornson. You will vote to fill both positions.

In addition, we receive calls from friends and associates of the candidates.

The third degree . . .

It is interesting to meet the candidates but the interviews are not always pleasant. It is our job to ask the most embarassing questions we can think of . . . to ask specific questions and get specific answers . . . to delve into their past and their qualifications and what they will do if elected . . . and what they stand for and stand against . . . who is supporting them and why . . . where are their campaign funds coming from . . . why are they running . . . what they think of their opponents . . . why are they more qualified than their opponents.

Interviews do not always provide the answer. Sometimes we go to people who know the candidates and their ability.

The toughest task, however, is making the final decision. If one candidate is very good and the other is very bad, then this would not be difficult. But such is not the case. Sometimes both are rather poor; so you try to decide the lesser of two evils. Sometimes both are mediocre; you decide which is the better. Sometimes both are good in different ways; you must weigh the issues carefully. Sometimes, both are equally qualified. What do you do then?

Here is a tough one

This unusual situation can be found in the race for our assemblyman. Republican Sam Conti, 36 years old, is from Pittsburg, an attorney since 1948. Democrat Jerry Waldie, 33, is from Antioch, an attorney since 1953. They are both bright, able, conscientious, hard working, young men. Either will make a good assemblyman. So how do you choose?

You might then decide to vote by party. If you believe the basic democrat program and philosophy come closer to your own beliefs and needs, then vote for Waldie. If the republican program and philosophy appeal to you, vote for Conti.

I doubt there would be much difference in the voting record in the assembly between the two. As a republican, in a strong democrat-labor district, Conti would vote pro-labor and very liberal—just as Republican Don Doyle did.

A few more facts about them

Conti is a few years older, has had more experience on governing boards and in community service. He is a member of more organizations and has contributed more to county betterment. He is a little smoother.

Waldie has that shiny idealism that has not yet been tarnished, which is needed in this cold world. I am happy, however, to report that this campaign has opened his eyes in many ways. I don't think he can be pushed around by party or labor bosses. He frankly admits he will vote "pro-labor" and democrat, because this is a labor and democrat county. He feels he will be more effective in Sacramento because, as a democrat, he will be working with a democrat governor and probably a democrat legislature.

Which should The Sun recommend? Both—both are good men. You decide on basis of party, experience, philosophy, etc. Listen to them at the Sun Candidates' Night at Acalanes Gym Wednesday night, October 29—and take your choice.

It Costs to Vote—$188,000 if You Care . . .

By BOB RAPIDA

Contra Costa County has budgeted some $188,100 to pay for the general elections November 4. This figure is over and above the $170,000 it cost for the June primary elections.

We are all familiar with the tried and true method of stepping into the voting booth and making an "x" mark next to the candidate of our choice by the so-called "Australian ballot."

THE METHOD is slow and old fashioned, but in most recounts the figures are pretty much the same as the original figures compiled by the election workers.

Contra Costa is growing at a fantastic rate. In an interim report of Tudor Engineering Company of San Francisco for the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, the central county area alone will triple in population by 1980 and the Brentwood, Knightsen area will have a population increase of 18-fold.

Since the June primaries 78 precincts have been created. Sub-counting and collection centers have been established by the county in Walnut Creek, Pittsburg and Antioch.

THOUSANDS OF election workers are in the process of being appointed to take care of the herculean task of hand counting an expected ballot of well over 125,000.

This 125,000 turn out of electors must be multiplied in many cases by the as many as 40 individual candidates and issues which may appear on any ballot and which must be computed and recorded separately.

A staff of election officials, about six or eight persons, after working a 12-hour day in the precinct must count the individual ballots.

THIS PROCESS takes six to eight hours to count approximately 250 ballots.

The ballots, in turn, are sent to subcenters and then to the county headquarters in Martinez for final tabulation. It is two or three days, even though county workers spend as much as 30-straight hours on the job, to get final results.

The official canvass of the ballots by county workers takes another week or so.

What's the answer to this expensive, time consuming problem of county ballots?

THERE SEEM to be several: automatic ballot counting machines, automatic voting machines and electronic computers.

As yet, the electronic computers are out of the picture, according to county officials, since the cost is prohibitive.

Returning to more practical solutions for the county, the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation has developed a device which looks just like a ballot and the firm claims that in one single election, it saved an eastern city $91,662.39.

THE MACHINE effected a savings in extra employees, overtime, deputy election commissioners, judges and clerks, postage, auto allowance, advertising, extra telephones, rental of polling places, rental of equipment, deliveries of election supplies, ballots printing and the like.

This voting machine has levers next to the names of candidates. When a lever is pulled an "x" drops next to the candidate's name. When the voter is satisfied with his ballot he pulls another lever and the entire vote is recorded.

At the end of the voting day the entire ballot cast for every candidate, and/or issue, is tabulated on the machines.

No hand counting is necessary.

OF COURSE, included in the machine is a long list of technical paraphernalia which insures against fraud, double voting, etc.

But again this is not the complete answer to the problem of cost. These machines must be stored, transported to and from polling places, maintained and the original capital outlay must be considered.

THE FREE ON BOARD cost from Canton, Ohio, is approximately $1700 per machine.

In Los Angeles, a counting machine has been developed and prototypes have been delivered for testing during the November elections.

This is an electronic type counting machine which employs the use of some sort of graphite pencil. This machine reportedly counts 250 ballots per minute, but its accuracy has not yet been determined by election officials.

Contra Costa county is also considering a complete revamping of its precinct system as a money saver.

AT PRESENT, it is impossible to tell how any one given area has voted in any particular contest.

For example, in Pleasant Hill there are 30 Pacheco precincts, 13 Walnut Creek precincts and 10 Lafayette precincts.

Residents of Saranap are in with Alamo, Walnut Creek, Lafayette precincts. Orinda precincts are a jumble of Lafayette, Moraga, St. Mary's precincts.

The new system looks forward to a supervisorial district coding, such as, supervisorial district 2, precinct 3, and would be coded as 2-3; 2-4; 2-5; etc.

THE COUNTY has already taken steps looking into economy measures for elections and is doing a good job of it.

The ones, however, who really deserve the praise and consideration of each voter are the election officials in the individual precincts and the county employees of the election department who give their all so that:

"The right to vote, to make a secret and independent political decision, remains the ultimate guarantee of liberty and freedom."

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

What with Balls and "Fol de Rols" and the like—things have been whirling during the past week.

First, let's talk about the Hummingbird unit's Fashions from Petticoat Lane" afternoon last Wednesday at El Nido. Guests gathered around noon and it was amusing, and gratifying, to note how many of the gorgeously gowned "gals" crowded close to the television set to cheer or moan over the sixth of the world series games. The smorgasbord luncheon was irresistible, as usual—does anyone EVER stick to one's promise to "go light"?

Decorated with dancing dolls, yet!

The tables were gayly decorated with dancing dolls in fluffy skirts and at each person's place was a clever program in the shape of a petticoat. Under each lace-trimmed flounce was printed pertinent information related to the show. At either end of the stage a flared petticoat arose from which protruded shapely legs—the feet daintily pointed in yellow satin ballet slippers. Huge yellow bows trimmed the skirts. Camille (Mrs. Robert) Simpson, who was the chairman and looked radiant in a costume composed of different shades of red (and SUCH elegant ruby jewels!), introduced the unit's president, Mollie (Mrs. Steven) Szybalski, who gave a welcoming talk.

Mollie looked truly luscious (and how we love her English accent AND glowing English complexion) in a soft paisley print in gold and moss green tones—very empire-ish in style.

Busy, hard working (lovely) people

Some of the busily working members were: Louise Leson—stunning in a molded black sheath, lots of chalk white jewelry and a wide black head-band nestled in her blonde curls; Nora Cook, just back from an extensive trip to Virginia with her mother, father and two children, tall and lovely in an elegant, long-sleeved green jersey and vari-shaded feather bonnet; and Colette Barry in a feminine black taffeta and large black hat, the frock's neckline sparked with a huge American beauty rose. Oddly enough—the baskets in which the members collected tickets were fashioned of black tule ruffles and trimmed with the same type of roses.

Off we go to the Fol de Rol

Some of those who trekked across the bay to attend the fabulous "Fol de Rol" were the Hugh Millers, John Gompertz and Steven Szybalskis and now, coming up next week, is "East Bay Night at the Opera."

The Marshall Shapiros are entertaining, preceding the opera, with a dinner party and their guests will be the Milton Selbys, Joseph Sheaffs (he is superintendent of schools in Orinda), Joseph Rupleys and Perc Browns. Another group is chartering a bus and will dine, en route, at the Claremont Hotel—some of those aboard will be the Beach Deans, Clay Sorrickqs and John Gompertz. Mrs. Dale Bissell has returned from a three months' visit in Pennsylvania. Twenty five neighbors surprised her with an all day swimming party on Sunday—topped off with a pot-luck dinner.

A dessert-work party was held at Barbara Spitzack's home last week—all in the interest of the Therapy Center. Attending were Virginia Latham, Gwen Grace and Frances Pratt.

Dorothy (Mrs. William) Thompson has been in a party mood. First there was a patio-party celebrating six year old Kathy's birthday and then a bridge party in honor of an "old" school chum who has been living in Philadelphia—Mrs. Conway Catton.

One of the oldest (perhaps THE oldest) dance clubs on this side of the tunnel—"Hill and Dale"—held its second gathering for the current year. How these members do love to trip the light fantastic and how they did whirl-away to the delightful Jimmy Diamond music! As always, the formal affair was held at the Orinda Country Club and this one was co-chairmaned by the John Gompertz and Chancey Ponds.

Thirty-four members were seated at the no-host table—all gathered at the club for refreshments preceding the dinner-dance. There were, as usual, many pre-dance parties. One was held at Lou and Joe Lang's home and another was given by the George Eberharts. Spotted here and there: the Ward Ingrams, William Higgans, Donald Normans, John Ratcliffs, Nels Hamburgs, Richard Tharps, Hugh McIntyres, Edward Sawyers, John Sexsons and Robert McFarlands. The group will finish up the year with its third and final dance January 31.

Margaret Gompertz reports that their activities are greatly dimmed by those of their debutante daughter, Jody, who (among other things) just pledged Delta Gamma at Cal along with another Orinda debutante—Mary Deans, daughter of the Beach Deans.

Holyoke To Meet

The fall meeting of the Mount Holyoke Club of Northern California will be held at the home of Mrs. Laurence L. Cross, 2064 Los Angeles Avenue, Berkeley, at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

A home tour of Europe . . .

Sunday night a real treat was offered to a group of friends when Van and Stan Homgren entertained with a showing of the most gorgeous colored slides completely covering their year's stay in Europe. If ribbons were being handed out—Stan should certainly receive the bluest of blue ones, for his photography was fantastic. Incidentally, Van was MOST photogenic as were their youngsters—Lynn (NOT such a youngster anymore), Karen and Larry.

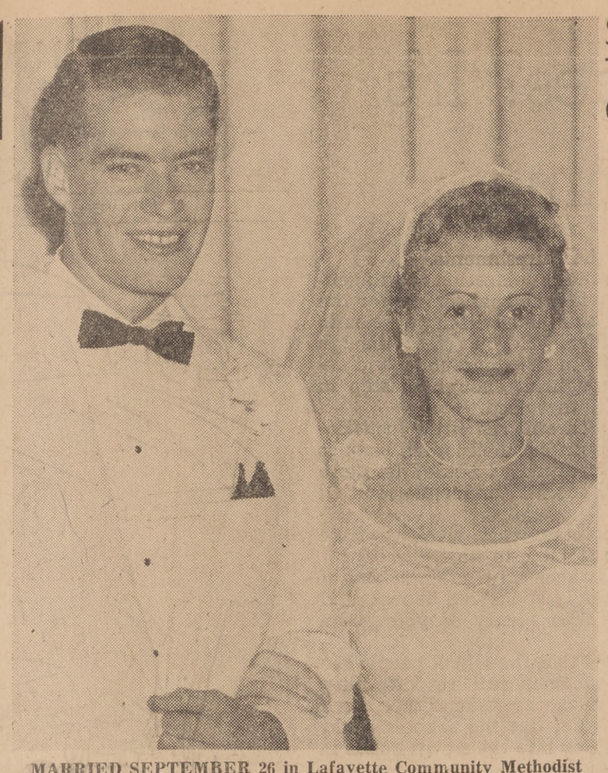
Later in the evening a delicious buffet supper was served. One of the guests was Luzanne Lang, daughter of the Joseph Langs of Orinda. Luzanne has recently returned from a trip to Europe where she, too, toured extensively with her aunt and uncle, the Harold Langs of Marin County.

Thursday the Holmgrens were on hand to welcome Jane and Irv Holmgren who returned from a trip to the Islands. The latter couple occupied the former couple's Orinda home during Van and Stan's absence and, understandably, fell in love with this part of the country and will now settle down to finding a home of their own here.

Now at home in Oakland . . .

Newly-weds, Barbara and Richard Fernandez, are occupying a brand new apartment in Oakland—having just returned from a honeymoon in Carmel. The former Barbara Stinnet and Richard were married in a lovely ceremony at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church with Linda Lucas, Maralyn Cooper and Sharon Fernandez as Barbara's attendants. The bride wore a heavy taffeta-faille gown featuring a long chapel train and an even longer veil. The three "lovelies" wore full white organdie frocks tied with wide pink sashes and their heads were crowned with clustered pink carnations to match their nosegays.

An evening reception was held in the Floyd Stinnet's gardens on Hacienda Avenue, Walnut Creek — and what a gorgeous evening it turned out to be. Viola Stinnet, the bride's mother, chose a periwinkle blue lace-over-satin sheath with all accessories matching and Richard's mother was in a similar costume in beige tones.



MARRIED SEPTEMBER 26 in Lafayette Community Methodist Church were the former Brenda Gayle Lee of Lafayette and Thomas Thurmond Trefethen of Piedmont.

Florence Pillsbury and Ruth Davidson are among the other members who will attend.

MRS. KALINA HAD A FIGURE PROBLEM

"At the Eileen Feather Salon I lost over 33 inches in measurements—my dress size came down from 18 to 12 and my figure was trimmed, firmed and shaped in just the right places. All these changes took place in just 60 days and, each treatment was a real pleasure. Barbara Lawrence Weds Ronald Edward Wilbur

A romance that began in Lafayette grammar-school days led to the altar of Hillcrest Congregational Church in Pleasant Hill, where Ronald Edward Wilbur took as his bride Barbara Lee Lawrence on August 16.

Neighbors since childhood on Reliez Station Road, Lafayette, Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marion Lawrence and Ronald the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wilbur.

THE BRIDE is an alumna of College of the Pacific, where her sorority was Alpha Theta Tau. She also attended San Francisco State College. The benedict attended University of California and Diablo Valley College. Both prepped at Acalanes High School.

Reverend Ray Petty conducted the ceremony, at which Barbara was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of silk organza with accents of pearl-studded alencon lace at the neckline and on the bouffant skirt. A crown of pearl orange blossoms held her elbow-length veil and she acrried a white bible with white orchids, roses and stephanotis.

WEARING WHITE embroidered organdy over pink taffeta, with coronets of pink rosebuds, were the six friends who preceded the bride to the altar. Peggy Boevers Hanson, whose marriage to James Hanson of Lodi was solemnized August 31, was maid of Honor.

Bridesmaids were Jo Ann Wilbur, sister of the bridegroom, Mary Matlock of Lafayette, Nancy Achilles of Woodside, Mrs. Mason Hoberg of San Francisco, and Mrs. Robert Logan of Stockton—the latter three sorority sisters of the bride. All carried old-fashioned nosegays of pink roses and white carnations.

Flower girl was Jennette Sundstrom of Lafayette, and candlelighters were Sally Spurr of Carmel and Barbara Greene of Oregon.

Timothy Freeman of Lafayette stood with the bridegroom as best man, and ushering duties were assigned to Gary Gudnason and James Phelps, both of Lafayette, Richard McDermed of Orinda, and Clifford and Elwyn Stocking, cousins of the groom.

SOLOIST WAS another of Barbara's C.O.P. sorority sisters—Mrs. Howard Patrick, nee Sharon Eggerts, formerly of Walnut Creek.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose moss green silk fashioned on sheath lines with draped bodice and a matching petal hat. Her flowers were green cymbidiums. The mother of the bridegroom wore steel blue lace with a bolero jacket, matching hat, and mauve cymbidiums.

A reception at Women's Club of Walnut Creek followed the ceremony. Passing the guest book was Sue Scrivener of San Francisco, and tulle bags of rice were distributed by the bridegroom's younger sister, Sheryl.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Tahoe, and are now at home on Alpine Road in Walnut Creek.

"Hillings' outstanding record as a Congressman and attorney make him the ideal candidate for the important attorney general post." said Pedder.

Hillings, who "kicked off" his campaign Tuesday from his native Nevada County at Donner Lake, expressed gratification at the turnout in his honor. he declared:

"The attorney for the people of California should not be the captive of any special interest. He should be completely free of these selfish interests if he is to conduct the attorney general's office impartially, effectively and fairly for all the people. There are basic philosophical differences between any opponent and myself and I intend to emphasize these differences as the campaign develops so the voters may have a clear-cut choice November 4.

Miss Bjornson Files for EBMUD Board Post

Pledging preservation of East Bay Municipal Utility District watershed land for public use, especially the area surrounding the San Pablo Dam reservoir, Miss Anga Bjornson of Piedmont announced her candidacy for director of the EBMUD today.

She will oppose Louis Breuner, president of the board.

"Unlike my opponent, I am pledged to preserve EBMUD's public land for public use," she said. "In particular the 6500 acres of beautiful watershed lands surrounding the San Pablo Reservoir must be saved for public park.

"My opponent appears determined to sell this public land to private interests even though the State Division of Beaches and Parks has designated this area as an excellent site for a regional park.

"This policy is short-sighted and foolish," she said.

Miss Bjornson lives at 2079 Oakland Avenue, Piedmont.

Offical Pigskin Play Begins

Knights Favored to Beat Miramonte in First Game

The prep football leagues of Contra Costa County swing into official action today and from here on in they count in the league standings column.

The newly formed Foothill Division opens this afternoon when Las Lomas plays Miramonte in an afternoon game in Orinda.

The Los Lomas Knights, rated along with Piedmont as the team to beat, are heavy favorites to roll up a win pretty much as they please.

Miramonte has the smallest squad in the circuit with Coach Bob Brooks having but 28 men on his roster.

ONE OF HIS problems has been at quarterback where he was hit particularly hard when he lost the services of Floyd Blaney due to an injury.

Randy Thaman, a 135-pound sophomore, has been holding down the spot. A newcomer is Bill Caldwell, who was a first string frosh quarterback last season. It is doubtful if he will be ready for this afternoon's game except in a very limited capacity.

Coach George DeKlotz's Knights are all in shape and with a heavy forward wall as well as a backfield with ample heft should have little trouble in chalking up their fifth win of the season to stay undefeated.

IN QUARTERBACK Don Hopkins they have one of the best long passers in the Bay area, while in Clark Ransome they have a fullback with the weight (195) and speed to keep the defense honest up the middle. Kickoff time is 3:30 p.m.

The other league tilt finds Piedmont playing at San Ramon in an 8 p.m. game.

Piedmont is still nursing its wounds, having been dumped by the Alhambra Bulldogs 9-6 in a big upset last Friday at Martinez.

The upset may prove detrimental to San Ramon, however, as the Highlanders have been working in high gear all week and Coach Bob Muenther hasn't spared the whip.

MUENTHER HAS had to do some shifting in the backfield as Doug McVean, a regular is out and Gary Heiner, another regular, has a turned ankle. John Griffith, regular half, has a bruised knee and is a doubtful starter.

San Ramon had an easy game last week when they dropped Amador, 46-0. The San Ramon crew has size and good ability and could give Piedmont trouble if their pass defense holds up.

Big John Schwammel, a 203 pound junior tackle, moves into the first string lineup for Coach Marv Ashby.

San Ramon's only loss was in their opener when they dropped a close 14-6 decision to Pleasant Hill.

THEY RACKED Liberty of Brentwood and Amador while posting a scoreless tie with Livermore in their other three games.

One thing certain is that the fans won't all have seats as it's the only night game in the league and scouts plus fans will all be out to have a look-see.

Both swing into action next week.

Hardtop Highlights

By JEAN McGUIRE

For you midget fans . . . there will be a 100 lap race tomorrow night at Contra Costa Speedway. The race is sanctioned by the United States Auto Club.

Jack London and J. C. Agajanian, who are staging the event state that the points acquired on the program will count toward the national midget championship, which is now a tight race between Shorty Templeman and Rex Easton.

BOTH OF the nationally known drivers are expected to be among the field of some 40 Offenhausers and about 20 others makes of cars.

"We'll have at least a dozen who have competed in the Indianapolis 500 for this program," said London, who added that this will be the third time that a midget race of national significance is being held in Northern California.

Already entered from the Bay Area are Mike McGreevy, Hayward, 1958 Bay Cities Racing Association midget champion, and Johnny Baldwin, San Carlos, 1957 indoor and outdoor champ.

TIME TRIALS will start the program at 7 p.m.

Well, the end of the hardtop season had to close I suppose, but with the ending of the 1958 racing year a lot of fans, including myself, are wondering how they'll spend their Saturday nights from now on.

The final race saw Wally Baker of Sacramento crowned new champion of the Bay Cities Racing Association. Baker, who had finished far behind in the last two races, still tallied enough points to maintain his leadership.

HUGH PURDY of Santa Rosa ran a close second. Next came Johnny Franklin, LeRoy Geving, and Gene Dudley, last year's BCRA champion.

The 25 lap main event was won by Gene Dudley, with Rick Henderson and LeRoy Gevings barreling in second and third.

The only local boy qualifying for the main event was Tim Kelly of Pacheco driving car number 25. Kelly looked very good for a while, leading the whole pack, until a spin out took him out of contention.

PLEASANT HILL'S Jack Clayton drove a beautiful race until car trouble overtook him again. He finished third in the first heat, second in a photo finish duel with Lloyd Silacci in the final heat, and led the semi-main till the last few laps when his transmission gave out.

Clayton ended 12th in point standings, which is a pretty good average considering he was without a car for many of the races.

Number 88 has blown three engines this year. Clayton has the highest point standings of any of our local pilots..

DOE PAYNE, Concord's number one boy came in second in the semi. Doe also ran the third heat, but was having engine trouble.

Pee Wee Waybright of Oakland was the star of the last show looking just a little bit better than usual. Waybright won the second heat, the trophy dash, and the semi main event.

Las Lomas Whips Pleasant Hill Rams, 28 to 12

The Las Lomas Knights are still riding high and mighty after racking Pleasant Hill for their fourth win in a row to remain undefeated and untied in the practice season of 1958.

The victims this time were the Pleasant Hill Rams, who went down, 28-12, in the game played last Friday night under the lights of the Las Lomas gridiron.

The Knights had a scare thrown into them when the Rams came out fast to score the first touchdown in the opening quarter.

The Rams went into action after recovering a Las Lomas fumble by quarterback Don Hopkins on the Knights 11-yard line.

ROGER LEONARD recovered the fumble, then hit over left guard for one; quarterback Dave Shepard sneaked over right guard for one and Leonard came back for four more. Then fullback Roger Foulk hit up the middle for the final two yards. Shepard's pass for the extra point missed the target.

The Knights then literally took to the air to score their four touchdowns.

An exchange of punts gave Las Lomas poossession on the Ram 32. Three plays — a 20-yard end run by fullback Clark Ransome, a two-yard gain by halfback Steve Moore, and another yard by Ransome put the ball on the Rams' 9. Moore then took the ball on a sweep and passed to end Bob Gomez in the end zone and when Ransome kicked the extra point it was 7-6.

THE TALLY came in the second quarter when the Knights rolled 80 yards in 11 plays. A quick kick by Leonard had rolled untouched to the Knights 20 from where they started the drive.

A 21-yard pass and run from Hopkins to Ransome highlighted the drive, along with a 24-yard pass from Hopkins to halfback Jim Hemstalk for the touchdown.

The Knights drove deep into Ram territory in the second quarter again, but four passes by Hopkins missed and the Rams took over with the half ending 14-6 in favor of Las Lomas.

IN THE THIRD quarter the Knights struck again when Moore intercepted a pass and brought it back to the Ram 28. The break was all the Knights needed as Hopkins again hit with a touchdown pass, this time to end Jim Sisler and Ransome converted to make it 21-6.

The Rams came back to make it 21-12 when they met on a 51-yard scoring drive with halfback Tom Webb scooting seven yards around left end for the score. This time quarterback Jim Maples attempted conversion kick was blocked.

The Knights hit the high road again when Ransome roared back with a 27-yard kickoff return to midfield and in three plays had touchdown number four.

HOPKINS USED a down up on an incomplete pass, and then Ransome cracked right guard for five yards to set the stage. The Big Act came when Hopkins threw a strike to end Dick Dodge on the 20 and he ran the rest of the way, the play consuming 48 yards.

Ransome kicked his fourth conversion and that ended the scoring as neither club could tally the rest of the way.

Both clubs threatened to score in the final quarter, but neither could make their efforts pay off in the way of scoring.

Las Lomas wound up with a 10-8 advantage in the first down department, and posted 140 yards rushing plus 180 on passing.

Leonard was the big ground gainer for the Rams, getting 135 yards out of a total for the Rams of 167. He took 15 carries to do it.

The Rams had but 10 yards on passes while Hopkins completed 7 for 17 and 161 yards, with Moore getting 27 yards in two completions on three tries for the Knights.

Prep Football Season Springs Some Surprises

by ERWIN MATTSON

Don Ferrarese returned home after a year's play with the Cleveland Indians only to take off for an All-Star tour. He pitched well at the year's end and plans call for him to take a regular turn on the mound come next spring.

Webb Johnson, all-county football player at Las Lomas, is sitting out a "Red Shirt" this year at Oregon after having a sensational Frosh year. "Red Shirt" is a term used to denote a player sitting out a year so as to save a year's eligibility.

The prep league football season gets under way today and it could be a good one.

PIEDMONT, early season favorite in the newly created Foothill League, looks to be having problems already. Injuries and sickness have cut their ranks—Alhambra beat them last week in a practice game and both San Ramon and Las Lomas appear capable of beating them, given a good night.

Piedmont could find the sledding a bit tougher than anticipated although they are far from being out of the running, loaded as they are with seniors plus several outstanding sophomores.

Jim Walker was a surprise package for last week when he came up as a back for Coach Carhart's Acalanes Dons and proceeded to wrap up plenty of yardage as well as a couple of touchdowns.

WHAT MOST didn't know is that Jim is the fastest player on the squad. He is also the outstanding lineman, so now the question arises as to where to use him. That's one question the opposition would like answered. Chances are Jim will wind up as a three letter man this year.

He figures to broadjump, run the hurdles, and probably take a turn on the baton-passing team in track.

He also will probably letter in basketball despite the fact he didn't play last season.

The difficult thing to realize is that the prep grid season has but four weeks to go from today. In fact, Las Lomas has but three weeks as they draw the bye in the final week.

MIRAMONTE reportedly has come up with a strong cross-country team as has Pleasant Hill High. San Ramon and Piedmont have also done well while Las Lomas has done little in the running game.

It reflects in track in the spring when the majority at the Walnut Creek school turn to swimming and baseball.

Las Lomas does have one of the better records in the local area in football. Their losses have been few, they play a steady, conservative brand of ball that makes few mistakes, and scores more than enough to win most of the time.

It could be that the Piedmont-Las Lomas game to be played at Walnut Creek will break all attendance records. Only foul weather could keep it from being a standing room only game.

It will mark the first meeting of the two—they were to meet last year but were rained out.

Cowboys Hit Matadors By 16-0

The Livermore Cowboys proved to be too much for the Miramonte Matadors to handle last Friday afternoon as they rolled to a 16-0 win.

The game, played at Miramonte, found the home club unable to do too much in way of moving the ball as they were only able to cross the 30-yard stripe once, when they reached the Livermore 33 late in the first half.

The Matadors did put up a stout defense as the visitors got their first touchdown in the second quarter when halfback Ron Mueller clinched a drive with an 11-yard touchdown end run in the second quarter.

Quarterback Rich Rochin kicked the first conversion to bring the count to 7-0, which was the way it ended at the half, where the score stayed until the fourth quarter when Mueller scored again from six yards out on another end run and Rochin again kicked the conversion.

Both Livermore touchdowns came following the loss of the ball by Miramonte fumbles, once on the home club's 24 and again on the 44.

Livermore appeared to be on its way again late in the fourth, quarter, when they drove to Miramonte's one only to lose the ball on a fumble. With two seconds on the clock, Miramonte's Bickey Clifford was tackled by tackle John Hughes behind the goal line for a safety, bringing the count to a final 16-0.

San Ramon Wolves Gobble Amador by 46-0 Score

The Amador High team came to Danville last Friday night short handed as they suited up but 15 players and went home on the short end of the score, 46-0.

The San Ramon Wolves were on the loose as they passed and ran their way to a convincing win. Amador had one player ejected and lost one on an injury, and that left 13, which proved to be an unlucky number for Amador as the Wolves proved to be hungry when they scored in every quarter, getting one touchdown in the first quarter and two in each of the remaining three.

THE SCORES came as follows: In the first quarter quarterback Gary Johnson tossed a pass to end Mike Oakes, which went for 43 yards to score.

In the second quarter halfback Rick Strachan topped a 54-yard drive with a four yard buck over guard for six. Strachan struck again with eight seconds in the half after an intercepted pass gave San Ramon the ball.

This time the touchdown came from the 10-yard stripe.

It was 20-0 at the half and San Ramon wasted little time scoring in the second half with halfback Pete Demos sprinting 68 yards on the second play of the third quarter and the quarter's second touchdown came when a desperation pass by Amador was grabbed off by guard Mike Furlong, who galloped 35 yards to score.

THE TWO FINAL period touchdowns came when another interception — this time by Dave Graves—put San Ramon in possession and halfback Bruce Weiss made it pay off when he hit pay dirt from 26 yards out.

The final game points came with a minute to go in the game when halfback Les Dietzler hit over right tackle for the final 12 yards of a 41-yard drive.

Kent Evans kicked all the conversions, connecting on seven and missing on three.

San Ramon held an 11-6 margin in first downs and rolled up 303 yards rushing to Amador's 44.

PH Frosh to Hit Pacifica Again Thursday

Showing the ability to bounce back after being behind, the Pleasant Hill Freshmen travel to Pacifica for a return engagement next Thursday.

In the first outing between the two squads the Baby Rams coasted to a 27-0 victory.

While Coaches Tom Webb and Jack Warren acknowledged that their boys are improving, they expect the Spartans to be much rougher the second time around.

Last Wednesday the frosh traveled to Livermore where they were victorious 21-12. Down 6-0 at half time they bounced back for two touchdowns in the third stanza.

Tom Foster went 20 yards around end for the first score climaxing a 50 yard drive.

Quarterback Loran Speck figured in on the last two scores as he went up the middle for six and passed to Rich Mackin for the other counter.

Jim Stephenson and Speck accounted for the three extra points.

Webb commended Speck and Foster for an outstanding game. He also added, "All in all we played heads up ball the second half.

Acalanes Dons Surprise Pacifica with 27-6 Win

The Acalanes Dons played one all the way last Friday night when they came up with a new backfield ace in Jim Walker, who racked up 13 points and Pacifica in a startling 27-6 upset win.

The game was the fourth for each club and up to then Pacifica was undefeated while the Dons had posted three defeats in a row.

The game, played at Concord, found Pacifica starting like a ball of fire when ace halfback Ivan Perkins broke loose and skirted left end for a 42-yard gallop to pay dirt.

THE CONVERSION try missed and at this point the Dons tightened their belts and went to work.

Paced by Jim Walker, who up to last Friday had operated as a tackle, the Dons put on a 60-yard drive early in the second quarter to score, with Walker cracking over tackle for the final four yards.

Walked proved to be a workhorse when he slanted over tackle for point number seven.

Acalanes kicked off, then held the Pacifica club and brought the punt back to midfield. One play brought it to the 42 when quarterback Mike Kritscher circled end for eight on an option play.

THE SECOND touchdown came when Jack Carman took the ball on a well-executed reverse and tossed a 42-yard pass to end Dewaine Stultz who stood alone in the touchdown territory. Kritscher circled right end for the extra point and it was 14-6 in favor of the Dons, who were never to be headed.

In the final stanza it was a different story as Acalanes came up with 13 points on a pair of touchdowns and an extra point when end Stan Hollister grabbed a conversion pass from quarterback Don Nelson.

THE FIRST touchdown of the quarter came when Acalanes put on a 38-yard drive to the 2 from where Walker drove it over on a power play at right tackle.

Another 40-yard drive late in the quarter brought the final touchdown with Kritscher taking it over from the two.

The Don machine, hitting on all eleven, really dominated the statistics as well as the score. In first downs it was Acalanes, 15-7. Acalanes had 310 yards rushing and 70 yards passing while Pacifica had 175 rushing and 10 on aerials.

Prof Finishes Practice; Crystal Ball Polished

By SOSS APPLE

Practice games have been interesting to date and have afforded the fans a preview of what is to come with league play getting off to a flying start today.

The Contra Costa, East Bay and the Foothill leagues, which comprise the Diablo Valley Athletic League, all open with games today.

Pittsburg rates the favorite role in the Contra Costa Division with Mt. Diablo rated second best and Pleasant Hill as the dark horse.

IN THE EAST BAY League it looks to be between Alhambra High of Martinez and Livermore, with Albany the dark horse.

In the Foothill Division Las Lomas rates the team to beat, with Piedmont not far behind. San Ramon, like Las Lomas, is undefeated in practice play and rates as the dark horse in the pennant race.

Up to now the predicting has been practice, as have been the games.

Here goes for some choice picks—

Las Lomas plays at Orinda this afternoon and should roll up the season's fifth win. Too much power—too much passing and too much defense means Los Lomas, 26-0.

PIEDMONT PLAYS tonight at San Ramon. Stung by a loss to the Alhambra Bulldogs, Coach Bob Muenther has had his charges working overtime all week.

San Ramon had an easy win over a weak Amador High squad—probably too easy for their own good. A Piedmont win, 26-12.

In college circles Cal meets USC in the Colesium down Los Angeles way. Cal has won two in a row. They haven't won three in a row for six years. It's time they did it again. Cal 14, USC 12.

College of Pacific meets Cincinnati, who gave them plenty of trouble last year, but the Tigers are anything but tame this year. COP wins 22-14 in a closer tilt than most anticipate.

STANFORD UPSET the dope bucket last week when they grew a set of muscles as they racked up Washington. Tomorrow they play the Air Force—a close one with the Air Force winning, 22-8.

The 49ers play Philadelphia and they are overdue after two "stinkers."

The coach and owner showed anything but maturity in their remarks after last week's loss to the Chicago Bears. Despite them, tab the 49ers to win, 33-20.

Martinez Sportsmen Slate Striped Bass Derby Harvest

Martinez, where the west coast's first stripers were planted 79 years ago, will hold its first Bass Derby in 20 years, Saturday and Sunday.

Plans for the fishing contest were announced today by Chet Walter, president of the Martinez Sportsmen's Club, which completed arrangements at a dinner Wednesday. The mteting was held at the club's new quonset headquarters on the city-owned waterfront.

Walter, who will serve as general chairman, announced that several committee heads have been named and others will be appointed later. A. W. Sullenger will be in charge of tickets; William Pongrace will arrange for the weighing-in-station; Chris Atkinson will head the prizes committee and Everett Johnson and Jim Ritch will be in charge of the Bay Area in 1879 when more than 100 fish were transported cross country by rail in tanks and planted in Carquinez strait between Martinez and Benicia. A second small shipment was brought out from the Chesapeake Bay two years later.

In the intervening four decades, the stripers have multiplied, becoming the foremost game fish in Northern California. Bass weighing as much as 50 pounds have been taken on line and hook in inland waters of the bay.

The derby will be open to all pleasure anglers who desire to file entries, according to Walter, and there will be scores of prizes. The weighing-in-station will be established at the Martinez Municipal Wharf.

Bulldogs Nip Highlanders

The Piedmont Highlanders were rudely upset by the Alhambra Bulldogs last Friday night in a hard fought game that went to the Martinez eleven by a 9-6 score.

Piedmont, winner in three earlier practice tilts when they ran up lopsided scores, found the Bulldogs tough in the clutch as hard tackling caused numerous fumbles and a tight defense bottled up the aerial game of Piedmont's Steve Wilcox, who up to then had thrown three touchdown passes.

The game, played at Martinez, found the Bulldogs taking the offense from the opening whistle as they ran the ball on 15 plays to Piedmont's eight in the opening quarter.

THE MARTINEZ crew posted two points on the score board in the second quarter as the result of a safety. It came about when a Piedmont clipping penalty set them back to their own 17. On the next play, quarterback Steve Wilcox dropped back to pass, found himself trapped by crashing end Rich Bobrosky and when Wilcox dropped back in the end zone it proved fatal as he was dropped in his tracks for a safety by guard Don Caderrasso.

Piedmont kicked off following the safety, and the Bulldogs, smelling an upset win within their grasp, started a scoring drive from midfield after halfback Rich McLaughlin returned the kick from his own 37 to the 49.

FOUR PLAYS later Alhambra had the ball on Piedmont's seven, from where halfback George Toriyama cracked over guard for four and then fullback Ron August put a big six up for the Bulldogs when he cracked right guard for the final 3.

Tackle Jan Thomas added the insurance point as he split the uprights with a place kick.

A short time later, after holding Piedmont, Alhambra got its hands on the ball and wound up on Piedmont's six only to lose the pigskin when McLaughlin fumbled.

It was a break for Piedmont and the Highlanders took full advantage of it. On the next play sophomore fullback Bobby Jones streaked around right end for Piedmont's first and only touchdown.

IT CAME with 56 seconds remaining in the half. The try-for-point bogged down when a Piedmont fumble was recovered by Alhambra.

The third quarter found Piedmont driving twice deep into Alhambra territory only to run out of gas when fumbles stalled the Highlander eleven.

Alhambra had ball control in the fourth quarter as they ran the ball to midfield from their own three only to lose it on a fumble.

PIEDMONT CAME back to drive late in the quarter to Alhambra's 16, but wound up on the 31 when a clipping penalty was called. Piedmont's Red Church had taken over as quarterback and when he was tossed for a loss back on his own 40 but 2½ minutes remained on the clock.

A third down pass to halfback Kevin Hogan wound up on the 19 and hopes were high for the invaders, only to be dashed in the next aerial to Hogan who was ruled out of bounds when he caught it deep in the end zone.

Alhambra took over on their own 20 and ran the clock out and with it Piedmont's hopes for a win.

Broadway Bid 'N Buy Quiz Features Over 100 Prizes

"Over 100 quality pieces of merchandise are now on display in the Broadway Bid 'N Buy Showcase," according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Included in the showcase are three pieces of luggage, chaise lounge, HO gauge train and accessories, electric razor, fire screen, electric blender, electric coffee maker and electric mixer.

ELECTRIC TOASTER, electric steam iron, men's suits and accessories, power mower, shoes for an entire family, mattress, vacuum cleaner, portable TV set and transister radio.

Pair of lamps, women's dresses and apparel, children's clothing and a multitude of other items of merchandise, Webster pointed out.

The exact retail value of all these gifts will be announced tomorrow at 4 p.m. in front of the Lucky Food Store in the Broadway Center where the showcase is standing.

"THE WINNER with the entry closest to the exact value of all the merchandise will be notified," Webster stated.

The exact total of all the items was locked in the vault of the Crocker Anglo Bank by committee members before the start of the Bid 'N Buy Contest, Webster pointed out.

"In addition to winning all that is within the showcase, the person who hits the right figure will be given, as a bonus prize, the showcase itself which in reality is a $351 greenhouse," Webster concluded.

Wrapping Clinic Scheduled For Capwell's Today

"There's really nothing mysterious about learning to tie a knot or a bow and with just a little practice almost anyone can become a real expert!" revealed Miss Bette Jeanne Hoover, nationally known packaging stylist for the Chicago Printed String Company, who is scheduled to appear at Capwell's-Walnut Creek today.

Miss Hoover, who conducts gift wrapping clinics for trade groups and other organizations will conduct gift wrap demonstrations from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and again from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Stationery Department on the Street Floor.

Capwell's Gift Wrap Demonstrations are especially designed for those people who carefully save the bows from last year's Christmas gifts, both because they're too pretty to throw away and because they plan to re-use them, according to John Tague, manager.

Miss Hoover asks, "Why not save valuable storage space . . . and have fun by learning how to make them yourself!" She continued, "All you require are the right wrapping materials and a large surface like a dining room table or even the floor on which to work."

During her gift wrapping, demonstrations Miss Hoover will show the audience how to wrap and tie Christmas packages of every shape and size. How to mitre corners on a square box and even how to tuck and fold the wrapping at the top of "impossible to wrap" cylinder-shaped containers. She'll show how easy it is to turn ribbon into bows of all sizes and shapes; into flowers, trees, angels . . . even Oriental lanterns, Tague noted.

The gift wrap expert will reveal the Do's and Don't's of gift wrapping to make the job so much easier and will give suggestions on the use of colors and papers "to transform your packages into the best dressed gifts of the season."

In addition, Miss Hoover will give each member of the audience a copy of the free folder, "Gift Wrapping Magic," which explains in detail how to make a variety of bows for every gift wrapping occasion.

Public Invited to American Heritage Day, October 26

American Heritage Day, a time for honoring a facet of the American tradition, will be sponsored by 20 cooperating Contra Costa County organizations.

A public program, in recognition this year of the Constitution, will be held in the Student Activities Building, Diablo Valley College, October 26 from 3:30 to 4:30.

American Heritage Day will focus in future years on such American traditions and institutions as the free enterprise system, the labor movement, the public schools, freedom of worship and freedom of the press. The public is invited to attend.

THE PROGRAM WILL consist of music furnished by the Diablo Valley College A Cappella Choir and two short addresses. Refreshments will be served.

The choir, under the direction of Dr. J. Philip Dalby, will sing six numbers: "Let Us All With Gladsome Voice" by Wennerberg, "How Beautiful the Queen of Night" by Goodman, "America, My Own" by Cain, "America the Beautiful" by Ward, "Brother James's Air (Marosa)" arranged by Gordon and "The Lord Bless You" by Lutkin.

Gayl Center will be the accompanist.

Miss Marjorie Lindholm, student at Contra Costa College will deliver an address entitled "The Liberties We Enjoy", Al Locatelli, student at Diablo Valley College will speak to the title, "The Student, His Classroom, and the Institution".

GEORGE R. GORDON, President of the Governing Board of the Contra Costa Junior College District, will be the presiding officer.

Gordon said "Pressures are strong today on many American institutions for change. It seems right and necessary that we re-examine our heritage as we struggle with these pressures and thus, American Heritage Day with its focus this year on the Constitution.

"Our country has changed considerably in the 169 years of our Constitution. That the Constitution remains as strong as ever in protecting our American heritage of justice, however, has been demonstrated repeatedly in recent years.

"Its true strength, we must remember, lies in the conviction of each citizen that it is to be respected in letter and spirit. These must ever be re-examined if they are to be understood, believed, and, when necessary, changed by orderly means.

"We urge the public to attend our program and to think with us for an hour about this cherished part of our American heritage," Gordon said.

Cooperating in the development of American Heritage Day are Masonic Lodges of Eastern Contra Costa County, The Contra Costa Historical Society, Contra Costa County Bar Association, Thirty-Second District—California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., Central Labor Council of Contra Costa County, The Industrial Association — Pittsburg-Antioch-Nichols Area, Daughters of the American Revolution.

"Her father has left her a heritage of magnificent accomplishment and almost legendary greatness. Eager to add to the fame of the Nijinsky name, she has taken up again her father's ideas, teaching the principles he discovered, confirming the teachings of their old master of the Imperial School of Ballet in St. Petersburg, Nicholas Legat. Today, Kyra Nijinsky is the only representative of the Legat Method in America," said Mrs. Silberman.

Walter Keane Will Speak At Art Association Meeting

Noted Bay Area artist Walter Keane will tell about "The Personal Approach to Painting as a Family" at the next Diablo Art Association meeting on October 27 at 8 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, Civic Drive.

His wife, the former Margaret Uhlrick of Walnut Creek, will also attend the meeting. Both she and the two Keane girls, ages 8 and 10, are "co-painters" and all do their work as a unit.

The Keans paintings have been on display throughout the world—the World's Fair in Brussels representing the United States and shows in Paris, Stockholm and Hawaii, in addition to exhibits in this country at Boston, New York City, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Chicago and the Bay Area.

Eleven years ago Walter Keane headed his own real estate company in Berkeley when he decided to make his "Sunday" hobby his full-time concern.

Time has proven his success. Prominent collectors of the Keane work include such diverse persons as the DuPont family, Liberace, Adlai Stevenson, Kim Novak, Eric Johnston, Red Skelton, and California's own Governor Knight.

Mrs. Lida Lawson, program chairman, has arranged to have a sample of the Keane paintings on exhibit, and she invited all interested in art to attend.

Coffee will be served after the talk by hostesses Mrs. Marie Romeo and Mrs. Minnie Blythe.

Featured in opposition will be Paul E. Sloane, lawyer, and volunteer speaker for 'Vote Yes for Proposition 18' group from San Francisco. Speaking against the bill will be Joseph R. Grodin, lawyer from a labor law firm.

Republicans Fete Lead Candidates At Diablo Club

Contra Costa County Republicans got together Tuesday in Mt. Diablo Country Club, Diablo, for a final fun and fund-raising rally before the election.

Sponsored by United Republican Finance Committee and billed as a rally honoring Congressman John F. Baldwin and Sam Conti, 10th Assembly District candidate, the event attracted a large crowd.

The $25-a-plate event had a birthday party theme, and was one of the parties across the nation honoring President Eisenhower on his birthday.

Program chairman Lindsey Spight, of Orinda, and Mrs. Frank Young, of Walnut Creek, invited state constitutional officers to participate in a panel.

Jack Pedder, of Lafayette, chairman of the Contra Costa Republican Central Committee, introduced dignitaries and party workers.

Walter Karnes, of Concord, general chairman, said committee chairmen in each area of the county aided plans for the dinner.

Among those heading committees were Mrs. Hugh Miller, Danville, arrangements, Mrs. Stanley Friden, Diablo, decorations, Mrs. Art Mohr, Diablo, reservations, Mrs. Donald P. Krotz, Orinda, tickets, Mrs. J. H. Schwarck, Orinda, seating.

Full Consideration For County, City Residents Vowed

Full consideration to residents of a city as well as those who live in the unincorporated areas of Contra Costa County is a campaign promise that supervisor Candidate Tom Coll intends to keep, he said.

"As a councilman for the City of Concord during the past several years, I have had the opportunity to study the tax problems of those who own property within the city limits and those of the unincorporated areas.

I believe that much can be done, especially in this county, by promoting greater cooperation between functions of city and county government.

"City taxpayers, who must also pay county taxes, are entitled to the same priveleges and services as his neighbor who may live just outside a city boundary. I am unalterably opposed to providing municipal-type services to unincorporated areas out of the general fund. It simply isn't equitable.

"If elected supervisor, I will give my time and attention to those who live in the outlying areas.

"Specifically, I want to point out that I will not turn my back on the problems which beset city residents because they do have local officials, other than their supervisor to whom they can turn for help," Coll concluded.

Sheriff Honored At Tea Gathering

Being honored Wednesday morning by neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith of 3279 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, were Sheriff and Mrs. Harry A. Brown.

Among guests attending were: Mesdames: Harry Waldemer, Joseph Vanberbeck, John Zucca, Milton Walker, Edward Sanford, Herbert Von Colditz, William Litwin, Oscar Serley, A. N. Petersen.

Kaar Backs Dr. Harris

Dr. Harold W. Kaar, 10 years assistant superintendent of county schools of Contra Costa, announced his unqualified support and endorsement of Ralph L. Harris, superintendent of the Sheldon School District in El Sobrante, as a candidate for the office of superintendent of schools.

Kaar pointed out that Harris is the only candidate with experience as a superintendent in California and in Contra Costa County.

Kaar stated, "I have worked with Superintendent Harris for a period of 14 years. I know that I am speaking for the parents and children and the educational leaders of Contra Costa County when I say that Harris knows all phases of education and school administration."

Mailing Party Is Held for John Baldwin

A public Mailing Party for Congressman John F. Baldwin was held at the new Montair School in Danville last night.

This was jointly sponsored by the San Ramon Valley Republican Women's Club and the Young Republican Club of the San Ramon Valley area.

These two clubs will sponsor a meeting of a panel from the League of Women's Voters discussing the pros and cons of all the Propositions on the November ballot. This meeting will also be open to the public.

Mrs. Noble Dorris is president of the Republican Women's club and Mr. Gerald E. Brown is president of the year.

Jewel Speaks At 10 Meets

Howard H. Jewel, Democratic candidate for Congress, has spoken at seven meetings in the Central Contra Costa area in the last 10 days.

Jewel spoke at a reception at Concord Elks Club, along with Jerome Waldie, democratic candidate for assembly. The reception was sponsored by the Contra Costa Labor Committee for Jewel and Waldie.

Monday Jewel spoke at a luncheon meeting of Concord Area Chamber of Commerce at noon at the Adobe Restaurant.

Monday night Jewel spoke at meeting of the Mt. Diablo District Teachers Association at Mt. Diablo High School in Concord.

Tuesday he spoke at a breakfast meeting of the Pleasant Hill Lions Club at Monument Bowl in Pleasant Hill.

That evening Jewel was guest of honor at a coffee meeting at the home of Mrs. Barbara Reid, 410 Moraga Road, Orinda.

Yesterday he spoke at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ann Pollaczek, 7 Rustic Way, Orinda, and today he will speak at a rally at the Steelworkers Hall in Pittsburg.

Marchus Hits 'Changes' In Schools

"Change will come about in the Office of the County Superintendent of Schools regardless of what we say or do here," declared Dr. Floyd I. Marchus, candidate for the office in the November 4 election.

"But change should be constructive. The bull in the china shop believes in change. The art of progress is to preserve order amid change and change amid order," Dr. Marchus affirmed.

His educational experience, he told the audience, includes: teaching in all grades from first into college, dean of boys and counselor, principal and superintendent in both elementary and high school and nine years of experience in research and administration in the Office of the County Superintendent.

Dr. Marchus received his doctorate from the University of California. He is trained in science and mathematics, education and administration.

200 Democrats Fete Candidates

Two hundred Contra Costa County Democrats assembled at the Diablo Country Club recently to hear addresses by their local party nominees — Howard Jewel, Jerome Waldie, and S. C. Masterson — and by the guest speaker of the evening, Attorney General Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, Democratic nominee for governor.

The $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner was sponsored by the Contra Costa County Central Committee. Martin Rothenberg, City Attorney of Pittsburg, was the dinner chairman; Mrs. Mary McKeown was secretary-treasurer. State Senator George Miller, Jr., served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Eight Foreign Students At Orientation Meeting

Seven foreign countries were represented by the eight American Field Service exchange students who participated in the area meeting held on October 11 at the Mike Roberts home at 739 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette.

The students and their native countries are Muhammad Jusuf Ismail of Indonesia and Tove Hefte of Norway, both attending Acalanes; Brigitt Hageli from Switerland and Tore Lindholom from Norway, who are at Miramonte, Martin Luis Pieroni of Argentina and Heidreun Huetteman of Germany at San Ramon; Meral Sever of Turkey, a student at Las Lomas, and Jose Del Hoyo from Spain, a senior at Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Earl Creager of 855 Moraga Road, Lafayette, is the American Field Service area chairman for the central Contra Costa area. She called the meeting to enable the exchange students to become acquainted and to discuss any problems of family or school adjustments they might have.

Mrs. Creager announced that there are 1171 foreign students taking their senior year in various high schools in the United States. They come from 37 countries. California leads the program, having 215 students here for the current year.

Coinciding with the student meeting, the presidents of the seven American Field Service committees in the area met, to make plans foor the year. These presidents include Mrs. Ted Lake from San Ramon High School district, Mrs. Robert S. Love from Pleasant Hill, Mrs. A. Nickel and Richard Lommel from Las Lomas, Mrs. Sig Groennings from Miramonte, and Mrs. Roberts from Acalanes.

March of Dimes Drive Chairman Is Announced

J. Dolan Stockton of Pittsburg has been appointed Contra Costa County Chairman for the 1959 March of Dimes, it was announced by Bryan O. Wilson, California State campaign chairman.

The drive will be held in January.

The polio-fighting organization is expanding into a broad new force that will tackle health problems on a wider front and no longer will confine its activities to a single disease.

"I AM CONFIDENT that the people of Contra Costa County, who helped make possible victory over polio through their contributions to the March of Dimes over the past 20 years, will give even greater support to the National Foundation's expanded program in the future", the county chairman said.

"We would like to make it clear, as we begin preparations for the 1959 March of Dimes, that the National Foundation will not abandon polio patients", Stockton declared.

"We have a moral obligation to the patients of this county to continue to provide needed care and rehabilitation, and we will fulfill that obligation".

eta etaoi etaoin etaoin etaoinnnn

IT WAS FURTHER stressed by Mr. Stockton that while solution of the problems of arthritis and birth defects are the immediate new goals of the March of Dimes, the organization also will follow leads as they develop in the fields of virus research and studies of the central nervous system. Polio experience has demonstrated that basic research cannot effectively be limited to single disease categories, he explained.

"The National Foundation, already conducting the largest research, patient care and professional education program of any voluntary health agency, will now be an organized medical force with specific goals at first but flexible enough to meet new health problems as needed.

"ARTHRITIS and birth defects were chosen as initial targets because they are regarded as major threats to the Nation's health to which the experience and skills gained in the polio fight can be applied", he said.

With the research efforts of the March of Dimes intensified in the new area, Mr. Stockton said, there is a real hope that the cause and prevention of the most severe forms of arthritis and the major disabling birth defects can be found.

He also announced that some time in the near future, the benefits of March of Dimes for care and rehabilitation will be made available to victims through age 18 of arthritis and birth defects involving the central nervous system.

Accreditation Of High Schools Is Discussed

A panel of Contra Costa County educators addressed the staff of the county superintendent Friday at the court house.

It included Dr. Grenville Jones, principal of Alhambra Union High School; Dr. Roger Schulte, superintendent of San Ramon Valley Union High School District; and Roy Anderson, secondary education coordinator on the county staff as moderator.

Alhambra and San Ramon and six other high schools of Contra Costa County have completed or are engaged in the accreditation, which was originated by the California Association of Secondary School Administrators to judge the entire school program rather than college preparatory alone, as has been traditional.

The other schools are Mt. Diablo, Pacifica, Pleasant Hill, Las Lomas, Liberty and Antioch.

The panel said a similar system consideration.

The accreditation system used by high schools works as follows: The schoool requests its use and receives printed guides. Four committees—administrative, faculty, student and non-teaching staff—independently answer the questions posed by the guides.

A visiting committee of CASSA members and leading educators meets with the school committees, welds the report into a whole and makes recommendation to the state accreditation committee.

A school is accredited for varying lengths of time up to five years, contingent on recommended changes.

Speakers at Friday's meeting said that in addition to its accreditation the system is valuable to inform the community and to give status and impulse to recommendations for changes.

Both speakers from the participating schools said they were looking forward to another evaluation in five years.

Oil Industry Contributes to State Economy

The oil industry contributed more to the economy of California last year than ever before in history, George D. Gavin, chairman of the Northern California Oil Information Committee said in launching California's 1958 Oil Progress Week.

"Oil companies, big and little, employed more California residents, paid them more wages and salaries, and collected and paid more federal, state and local taxes than in any previous year," Mr. Garvin said.

Figures compiled by the Western Oil and Gas Association, Mr. Gavin said, show that 130,978 Californians were employed by the oil industry doing business here.

Women Realtors Plan Meeting

The Women's Division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board will hold the monthly luncheon at the El Nido on Wednesday.

The speakers will be from the County Planning Commission and the Walnut Creek commission.

One member from the Design and Project Committee of Lafayette and one member each from the Orinda, Alamo and Danville Community Development projects will attend.

This meeting is open to all members of the board and the general public.

County Employees To Seat Officers

The County Employees Association will hold its annual Installation Dinner at El Rio Hotel in Antioch tomorrow.

Officers to be installed are George McClure as president; Paul Kilkenny, vice-president; Diane Riboni, secretary; Art Holstein, treasurer; Wilma Anderson, sergeant-at-arms; and Harry Jones, Stanley Hart, Bob Montanelli, John Morris, William Higham and James Moon as directors.

McClure, who will succeed Benjamin O. Russell as president, is a deputy district attorney and has long been active in association affairs.

He served as vice-president last year and previously as director, and editor of the Association's publication, "Contra Costa County Employee".

Kilkenny is an engineer in the public works department.

David Levy of the district attorney's office will be the master of ceremonies and Mary Smith, clerk to the board of supervisors, will be the installing officer.

Guests will include members of the board of supervisors, superior court judges, civil service commissioners, the county administrator and others.

Area Students Attend Doctors News Conference

Four students from Acalanes and Pleasant Hill High Schools recently represented Contra Costa High Schools at the TV show "Doctor's News Conference."

The show served as the "kick-off" for the 22nd annual school press project which is co-sponsored yearly by the tuberculosis associations and Columbia Scholastic Press. It featured a discussion by top-ranking doctors on the tuberculosis problem today.

Representing Contra Costa were Stanley Sanders and Robin Bean from Pleasant High School and Mary Rambo and George Hunt from Acalanes.

These students, who are reporters on their schoool newspaper, are writing news stories for their schoool papers. The papers will be entered in the national contest.

"The contest is not limited to the four students who attended the press conference," explained Mrs. Edythe Tucker, executive director of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association. "The competition is open to any student who wishes to write an article for his school paper," she said.

Red Cross Leader Says Send Overseas Gifts Now

"Preparation for Christmas gifts for all people overseas should be started at once," said Mrs. A. H. Hammonds of the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the National Red Cross, 1395 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek.

"Each man would like to come home for the holidays but if your loved one cannot do that, let's do what we can to make him happy," she added.

Foodstuff sent to the servicemen is welcome. However, because of improper packing, much of it arrives in damaged condition.

COOKIES, fruit cakes, brownies, and home made candy should be able to stand rough handling in shipment if wrapped in foil paper and packed in tins. Peanut cookies break very easily, she said.

Small pictures (billfold size) of family groups, sweetheart and friends, especially those pictures taken of home, are fine gifts.

A novel thing is to send newspapers or a subscription to a home-town paper, a magazine or book.

American civilian clothing is always happily received, especially nylon garments for the women. Anything that washes easily will be gratefully received.

MONEY should be sent by postal money order. American currency is difficult to exchange in many places, and checks are either impossible to cash or require payment of a fee.

On the undesirable list are: Items of military-type clothing, cigarettes, watches, ties, cameras and sport goods, all of which can be purchased at most PX's and at bargain prices.

All folks abroad prefer that letters and Christmas cards be sent air mail with a seven-cent stamp on the envelope, and marked "air mail."

Annual Meet Attended by Area Red Cross

Six volunteer workers of the Mt. Diablo Red Cross Chapter House in Walnut Creek journeyed to Sausalito to attend the annual meeting of the Sausalito Red Cross Chapter, held at the new Alta Mira Hotel, September 24.

Mrs. Edward J. Ruff, chapter chairman, was in charge. She presented pins for various terms of service. Two members have served for 25 years. Mrs. Sanford Lowengart, chairman of volunteers awarded the rest of the pins.

Dr. Jesse Baird, a member of the board of directors, talked on patriotism, after which tea was served by the hotel.

Those who attended from Walnut Creek were Mesdames Arthur Hammonds, Julius Loeb, Rothrow Dreggors, Arthur J. Webb, Clifford Geist and Harold Balinsiefer.

An orientation meeting for new volunteers to the American Red Cross was held at the chapter house, 1395 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek, on October 6.

Mrs. J. C. McGeehon, gave a history of Red Cross from its inception to the present time. Mrs. McGeehon has been an active member for over 40 years.

Karl Mahler, the new Mt. Diablo chapter manager, was introduced to the group. He discussed the financial workings of Red Cross.

Dryer-dried things are softer, nicer

To see just how much softer and fluffier an automatic dryer gets things, try stacking five dryer-dried towels next to that many sun-dried ones. You'll see the dryer pile is a good 30% higher—that means 30% softer and fluffier. So along with their speed and ease, automatic dryers dry even better than the sun. And there's no lugging. No weather worries or sun-baked wrinkles to iron-out. You just push a button and the job's done—softer, fresher, fluffier.

AFS Student From Orinda Starts School In France

Linda Lancione, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weido Lancione has arrived in Rouen, France, and was to start school there in the early part of October.

With a plane full of AFS students, Linda left New York on August 18 and landed in Brussels on the next day. The students going to live in Spain, Italy and France took a train trip to Paris where the French AFS committee arranged for those who would be living in France to have a daily French lesson at Ecole Pratique de l'Alliance Francaise.

While in Paris they stayed at the Cite Universitaire. Along with the studies the group visited many famous and interesting places such as the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, Arc de Triomphe and the Cathedral at Notre Dame.

Linda arrived in Rouen on August 31 and she says "twenty-four hours after arriving I felt right at home". Her "family" in Rouen, the Jacques Moreaus, have six children, including Linda. In early September part of the family took Linda for a 15 day visit to their summer home at Ile de Re before returning to Rouen and to school.

Linda's first comment about the Moreaus was that they are very friendly people and "as in-

This'll Fill the Bill Says Baer!

Al Baer, chairman of the Merchant's Committee of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, suggested Tuesday at the chamber meeting that it would be nice if the chamber would take part in celebrating the opening of the Orinda Library.

"We still have some money left," said Baer, "and I thought we might have some invitations printed that merchants could include as stuffers in their bills."

He paused and added, "Of course, I don't know how effective this would be. Some people open their bills and others don't."

Orinda Woman's Club Initiates New Members

The Orinda Woman's Club had its initiation ceremony Monday in the new Sleepy Hollow all-purpose room.

The 18 new members being initiated were Mesdames Roger Bond, Thomas Buffalow, Thomas Cannon, James Dalton, David Edwards, Harry Fledderman, Ellis Hodges, Earl Hill, Harold Johnson, Mark Kermit, Vernon Lorch, Rhys Miller, Eldon Parsons, M. C. Rich, David Smith, Frank Ulbrich, L. McKim, and Robert Sweeney.

Initiates participated in a skit in which they are dressed to impersonate their favorite book or play. Following this there was a candlelight ceremony.

After the initiation the group had as guest speaker Eleanor Silverman, who gave a book review of "Rally Round the Flag Boys," by Max Schulman, and a selection from "How to Talk to a Man," an article by Jean Kerr, author of "Please Won't Eat the Daisies."

Questionnaires were also filled out by members regarding Orinda's future growth pattern as requested by the Planning Commission from the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association.

The Orinda Woman's Club will see their donation of a record stack, chairs and table, and a collection of records in use when the new Orinda Library is opened this fall.

The club felt it wished to donate something for the interior of the library, even though they were very instrumental in the collection of the library building fund and made several donations to it.

The Orinda Woman's Club has established a Club House Building Fund and is interested in possible building sites or real estate suitable for such purpose. John Madison, 42 Van Ripper Lane, is building site chairman.

Four club members attended the Diablo District board meeting held in Twain Harte, October 9 at which the Twain Harte Woman's Club was hostess. Mrs. F. S. Crawshaw told parents about the carnival to be held October 18 at the school and said the club hopes to make this carnival the one big money making project of the year.

Mrs. Joe Conley, president of the Parents Club, thanked those who worked on the supper.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

When you think about national defense, you may not think of telephones right away. Fact is, though, you'll find phone lines at the heart of our defense setup. For instance, long-range bomber bases of the Strategic Air Command depend on phone lines for trigger-fast communication; and in our test centers, like the one shown above, we keep a never-ending watch on these vital communications pathways. Phone lines also keep the Air Defense Command in split-second touch with missile launching sites. Telephone men from the Pacific West have also helped build other defense communications systems. We're happy that our people can help—in these and many more ways—to keep the U.S. strong.

Pledge Your Fair Share of Happiness . . .

It's United Crusade time and activity in Contra Costa County continues to mount in support of one big give. Ninety-one cents of every dollar pledged in Contra Costa County remains with our own health, welfare and youth agencies. These agencies provide guidance and recreation for our youth and aid for our sick, aged and handicapped. Hundreds of volunteers work without pay on this great civic effort contributing to the continued happiness and welfare of our community. Our support of the United Crusade is the most economic means of safeguarding our democratic heritage, so when a friend, neighbor or business associate asks for your gift donation be happy and proud that you have pledged YOUR FAIR SHARE.

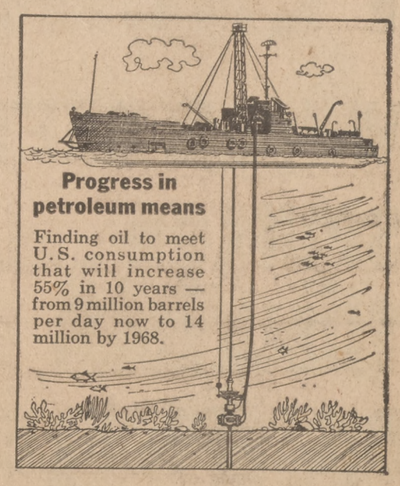
Navy landing ship converted by Standard for off-shore oil search. A 55-foot drilling mast is poised over circular 10-foot-wide opening from deck through bottom.

"Live" TV show 40 fathoms down guides our search for future oil reserves

With new oil becoming harder to find, our search widens. Now we're exploring the ocean floor — and new techniques are the rule. In one such venture we lowered a TV camera 250 feet below the waves to help guide the drilling of test holes from shipboard.

This is typical of the novel techniques used in our quest that last year took us to 21 states, Canada, Alaska and ten Latin American and Caribbean countries. In all, we drilled 120 exploratory wells. Although the cost ran to many millions, the successful ones helped us locate more new oil than we withdrew from the ground.

Actually, this benefits you as well as Standard. It means an adequate reserve of our most valuable national resource, to be drawn on in days ahead to provide the thousands of products from petroleum so essential for your daily needs.



Progress in petroleum means

Finding oil to meet U.S. consumption that will increase 55% in 10 years — from 9 million barrels per day now to 14 million by 1968.
